

SOUTHERN ITALY SHAKEN BY ANOTHER EARTHQUAKE

EXTENT OF DISASTER GROWS DAILY

Rome, Jan. 19.—An earthquake of great force has shaken all Calabria in the southwestern part of Italy but so far as is known has caused no loss of life. The shock appears to have been most severe in the neighborhood of Cosenza, capital of the province. It frightened thousands of persons and drove them into the open, where they insist on staying. They prefer to risk the cold and its consequent sufferings rather than run the chance of being buried in the ruins of their homes.

Throughout the earthquake belt in central Italy, even in towns where many of the buildings are still standing apparently intact, (Continued on Page 3.)

Sebastopol (via Petrograd) Jan. 19.—A detachment of Russian torpedo boats have entered the Bay of Sinope, a Turkish port on the Black sea in Asia Minor, and have sent to the bottom a Turkish steamer and three sailing vessels. The crews of all four ships were saved.

No date of this engagement is given. The news is trustworthy.

RECOMMEND TEN CENT BREAD

Chicago, Jan. 19.—Manufacturers of a ten cent loaf of bread throughout the United States are recommended at a meeting yesterday of the Efficiency Board of the National Bakers' Association. The board is made up of bakers from 26 cities. They believe this action is necessary as a result of the high price of wheat. Bread weighing 26 or 27 ounces can be produced for 10 cents a loaf at a profit, it was stated, whereas a loss must be faced in the manufacture of a five-cent loaf weighing 12 ounces.

A report of the Efficiency board it was said will show that the normal price, flour costing 73 per cent of the manufacturing cost of bread.

I. W. W. LEADER ARRESTED AT BELLAIRE

Bellaire, O., Jan. 19.—Joseph J. Ettor, Industrial Workers of the World leader, was arrested here this afternoon by Deputy Sheriffs, and taken to the Belmont county jail at St. Clairsville. Ettor, who had been advertised to speak to striking miners here tonight, is said to be charged with treason.

A large number of foreigners from the Belmont district arrived here this afternoon to hear Ettor speak. Trouble is feared.

DEPUTY SHERIFFS SHOOT 19 STRIKERS

Roosevelt, N. J., Jan. 19.—Nineteen men were shot, four of them being mortally wounded, in a pitched battle between 250 striking laborers and fifty deputy sheriffs at the plant of the American Agricultural Chemical Co., here today.

The fight occurred when the strikers stopped a Central railroad of New Jersey train from Elizabethport, to see if the train brought strikebreakers to the plant. There were no strikebreakers aboard, but a few office employees who were passengers started an outcry, apparently believing that the strikers intended to harm them.

In answer to the call, fifty deputy sheriffs, armed with rifles and revolvers, ran to the scene from the company's plant, where they had been stationed for the past two weeks. A general encounter between the deputies and the strikers followed. Most of the wounded men were shot through the legs.

According to the strike leaders the total casualties were 19 and one of the wounded, Michael Backy, died on the way to a hospital. At the two principal hospitals in Elizabeth, which received the 12 of the injured men, it was said that the man was in a critical condition, but that none had died.

CAN'T PLACE EMBARGO ON FOODSTUFFS

Washington, Jan. 19.—President Wilson has no authority to declare an embargo on the exportation of wheat and other foodstuffs he told callers today discussing recent increases in food prices in the United States. Such authority must come from congress, he said, adding that he had not investigated the constitutionality of such a step.

WHITE HOUSE BABY DOESN'T DISTURB PRESIDENT'S SLEEP

Washington, Jan. 19.—Suggestions that President Wilson's grandson, the child of Mr. and Mrs. Francis H. Sayre, go nameless until contests to choose a name can be held in various parts of the country began arriving at the White House today and caused much amusement among members of the president's family.

The president is reluctant to have the baby named after himself because the child "would have troubles enough of his own to bear." He told callers that a family council on the subject was held at the White House today but no decision was reached. Francis Woodrow Sayre was the name most frequently suggested.

The president said his grandson was a model infant and up to the present time had not kept the family awake in the night by crying.

ENGLAND REFUSES SAFE CONDUCT TO U. S. SHIP

Washington, Jan. 19.—The British government will not consent to allow the steamer Dacia, recently transferred from German to American registry to proceed to Rotterdam under safe conduct with her cargo of cotton, the state department was notified today from London.

While the text of the message was withheld it is known the British objection was based broadly on a reluctance to create a precedent which, it is felt, would be followed by many similar purchases of German ships in America and efforts to operate them on the former German trade routes.

The British note does not undertake to assert the right of Great Britain to interfere with ships purchased and transferred to the American flag in a legitimate way. The objection to the transfer of the Dacia, according to the British view, is that it was not genuine, it being intimated the British government believes the American purchaser really was acting for German principals.

$30,000,000 CONCERN ASKS FOR A RECEIVER

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 19.—Petition for a receiver for the M. Rumley Company, the $30,000,000 agricultural machinery manufacturing concern was filed in the United States district court here today. Rumors that an effort would be made to place the corporation in the hands of receivers, as a means of re-organizing, have been current for some time.

Villa's Operations Confuse Mexico City

Washington, Jan. 19.—Dispatches filed yesterday at Mexico City said that while it was reported General Villa with a large force was coming to the capital, reliable information indicated he would not move further south than Queretaro. Agents of the American government in the Mexican capital, said they were at a loss to understand the new phases of the situation or predict the outcome.

The advance from Puebla of the forces of General Obregon, a Carranza chief, and the sudden departure of General Gutierrez from Mexico City with five thousand men has proven a menace to the capital.

ENGLISH CITY WON'T ACCEPT U. S. CONSUL

Nottingham, England, (Via London), Jan. 19.—On account of letters written by him and published in a newspaper at Lincoln, Nebraska, John L. Cutright, newly accredited American vice consul at Nottingham, did not take up the duties for which he came to this city, but returned to London.

Mr. Cutright departed from Nottingham after he had been informed by the mayor and other city officials that he would not be acceptable because his newspaper letters were regarded as expressive of pro-German sentiments.

Before coming to Nottingham Mr. Cutright served as American vice consul at Coburg, Germany. While there he wrote the letters to which the Nottingham officials took exception.

Mr. Cutright is a son of John Cutright, editor of the Lincoln Star, and formerly private secretary of William J. Bryan. The son, a graduate of the University of Nebraska, had been in the consular service only a few months.

London, Jan. 19.—The American embassy would make no statement concerning the case, further than to say that if Mr. Cutright was not acceptable to the Nottingham authorities he probably would be sent elsewhere.

20 MEN ON TRIAL IN LABOR DISPUTE

Fort Smith, Ark., Jan. 19.—Probably the most important criminal procedure in a labor dispute to find its way into the federal courts since the trial of the iron workers at Indianapolis, will begin in the United States district court here tomorrow when 20 men will be placed on trial charged with being implicated in the disturbances that have marked the disagreement between union coal miners and the Bache Deunman Coal Company at Prairie Creek, since last April.

The trouble between the mine workers and the coal company which is in the hands of a receiver together with nine of its subsidiary companies, originated when the corporation decided to adopt the open shop system.

A number of the company's plants were burned and a battle of several hours was fought at No. 4 mine, Prairie Creek on July 17, in which it is alleged two mine guards were killed.

Have Plan For State Vice Commission

Columbus, O., Jan. 19.—Vice of all kinds in Ohio will be investigated by an official state commission appointed by the governor, if plans presented to Governor Willis and members of the legislature today by a delegation of church men and reform advocates from over the state, are carried out.

The delegation which invaded the state house today was headed by Rev. V. S. Gregg, of Cleveland, superintendent of the American Civic Reform union.

The governor was told by the delegation that all the churches and religious organizations of the state would support the proposition.

The commission would take two years to conduct its investigation into conditions and the causes of vice and report its recommendations to the general assembly in 1917, according to the plan proposed.

GERMANS START OFFENSIVE MOVE TO GAIN YPRES

Paris, Jan. 19.—The Germans have begun another offensive movement, according to unofficial advices today from Holland. It is said that the German heavy artillery went into action yesterday and that a battle is in progress for possession of Ypres.

The British are moving in fresh troops to defend this town, around which occurred some of the heaviest fighting of the war, at the time the Germans were attempting to force their way to the English channel. The assault on Ypres, following the victory of the Germans at Soissons and their attack at Albert, marks the third movement of the kind within a week.

HUNGARY SEEKING PEACE, IS REPORT

London, Jan. 19.—The Russians claim to have obtained a good foothold in Transylvania but they have not yet invaded that country in force. As the Russian menace to Hungary becomes more of a reality reports that Hungary is seeking a separate peace are being revived in London.

None of these reports can be confirmed but they insist that Hungary is willing to make any sacrifice rather than submit to an invasion.

900 TURKS ARE FROZEN TO DEATH

Paris, Jan. 19.—The plight of the Turkish army corps which gave battle to Russians near Kara Urgan, in the Caucasus region is described in Petrograd reports as pitiable. Those who escaped alive from the battle are said to be fleeing toward Erzerum but owing to capture by Russians of their food supplies, are confronted with the alternative of starvation or surrendering. It is stated that in one place 900 soldiers were found frozen to death and doubt is expressed that any of the Turks will be able to reach Erzerum.

End Of War Not In Sight Says Wilson

Washington, Jan. 19.—President Wilson sees no likelihood of the termination of the European war this spring. He told callers today he had not noticed any indications of peace in the situation yet.

Mr. Wilson mentioned the subject in connection with his plans for a trip through the Panama canal and to the San Francisco exposition. He added that the trip to Panama was dependent upon domestic and foreign conditions because "practically all the government would be at sea." He smiled at his own remark and added that he meant "literally at sea."

Warsaw Scene Of Continued Moves

Petrograd, Jan. 19.—(via London) —The German forces in Central Poland are continuing their efforts to an advance west of Warsaw, although the left flank is endangered by the advance of Russian troops along the right bank of the Vistula west of Plock and the position of their right flank according to Russian reports, is no longer tenable. This forward movement of the center of the German line has been unsuccessful this far, having been fought by Russian aeroplanes and checked by artillery.

It is now the consensus of military opinion that the German army must either force its way through the Russian line in the center, where its present efforts are directed, or else retreat to the Warta river, which would mean falling back to within about 25 miles of the German frontier. The Russian movements designed to encircle the German flanks will make it impossible, military men say, for the Germans to maintain their present position in the center.

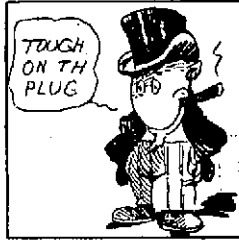

NAMED RECEIVER OF ROCK ISLAND

New York, Jan. 19.—The federal district court today appointed Walter C. Noyes receiver of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad company, the Iowa corporation whose stock was sold at public auction two weeks ago. The receiver's bond was fixed at $25,000.

M'GOWAN COMPANY TAKES STEPS TO ADJUST TROUBLE

ANYTHING UP TO US WILL BE MADE O. K. DECLARES PUMP MAN

After putting in the greater part of the day, inspecting the pumping station of the new Portsmouth waterworks John H. McGowan of Cincinnati, reported to Mayor Adam Frick that he had found reports of defects were correct, according to the mayor.

The mayor says: "Mr. McGowan said he had found a defect in the turbines, that the coal stokers were not working properly and that No. 2 pump was not working the way it ought and he therefore had detailed two of his men to stay here and meanwhile he will get the steam turbine and stoker people and all others who supplied the McGowan company with material and mechanism to come here and get their part of the work in shape and then the McGowan company will adjust its pumps to the new conditions and follow that course if it takes a whole year."

Will Put Plant In Good Shape

He said he was determined to get the plant in satisfactory shape and that he meant by that that it shall be satisfactory not only to the general public but the mayor as well.

Relative to the board of control meeting called for January 2 the time previously fixed upon for the McGowan company to correct existing conditions or the city would withdraw its men from the plant Mayor Frick requested Mr. McGowan to write to the board from his office in substance what he had found in making his investigation and set out in detail his intentions with reference to the ultimate completion of the entire plant. The mayor suggested that an essential part of his report should be that the continued operation of the plant by the city pending the process of the McGowan company's repairs or alterations should be in no wise held against the city and never be questioned as a means of inducing anyone to believing that by reason of such use that the plant might be accepted. It was with this in mind that the mayor had called the above special meeting believing that the continued operation by the city of the plant for several months might influence a jury to believe that the plant was in good running order and the city bound to accept it from the contractors. The mayor suggested further to Mr. McGowan that if the city was privileged to continue using the plant that no reference be made to this usage before any court.

Mr. McGowan Tells Troubles

Mr. McGowan related in detail how the company had tried to meet every objection raised by the city officials or the city's engineers and that the plant was always operating but that seemingly every time he came here he would learn of some new trouble. He in no unmisgivable terms voiced his disgust and that of his engineers. He felt that with the reconstruction of the electric coal hoist his contract had been completed. The armature and field of the hoist had burned out eight weeks ago and while it was not shown his company was to blame it had assumed responsibility and repaired the damage and it has been in successful operation since last Saturday.

Engineer W. W. Watson reminded those present that the specifications clearly provide that a final estimate shall be made of the various installations as soon as completed and sent to the general contractor or Engineer Witmer in this case. This done it is up to Engineer Witmer to inspect the work and pass upon same preparatory to recommending acceptance by the city. Until that time had arrived there was no necessity for Mr. Witmer coming here.

Mayor Tells Of Troubles

The mayor once the discussion led to mechanical details said it had been plainly demonstrated that the boilers and pumps were unduly taxed, that ends were blown out of the pipes and that the fuel consumption was excessive. He argued that there was no reason for straining the pumps that the time for forcing capacity would come when two additional reserve pumps were installed. The McGowan representatives contended that they could not be blamed if the city went out and bought the highest priced coal in the market when less expensive coal might answer just as well.

Conference Held Monday Night

The John H. McGowan company, of Cincinnati, following a conference with the city officials Monday night, agreed to go over its decision of the new water works contract, Tuesday, check up and carefully inspect every part and signified its intention of

They finally admitted though that there was undoubtedly excessive consumption. They gave assurance that they had done all in their power even to having experts come here to get their machinery to operate properly but that they did not wish to be unjustly criticized. They declared that they were willing to remove all causes of dissatisfaction and again send for their turbine man and other experts if necessary.

The mayor assured the McGowan people that the city could not be expected to make the tests for them and that the thing for them to do was to get results from the turbine people and others responsible to them. He had so advised two months ago. It was finally agreed that the city board of control await the report of the company's new inspection of the plant.

Mayor Wants Plant O. K.

Mayor Frick expressed himself as greatly pleased with the good effect of the meeting which he felt had brought about a better understanding and that it showed he and other city officials would not simply be satisfied to be temperarily appeased and then suddenly accept the plant without any guarantee that it will continue to operate successfully.

He felt that this is a perfected area for pumping machinery and that the city should have just what it contracted for, this in answer to the statement that the Cincinnati water works and other plants the country over had troubles at the time of beginning.

John Herrmann, the city's chief engineer, after the meeting expressed the opinion that the trouble at the pumping station is due to the pumps being overpowered. He said they were built for a higher lift, that the original plans called for the reservoir to be at a height of 250 feet whereas it is but 186 feet. He does not know who was responsible for this change. He thought the plant could be made to operate successfully with some new cylinder and several changes in the machinery. The reinforcement of the east wall of the reservoir was completed Monday. All of the eleven concrete buttresses are placed but there still remains some filling between them. The reservoir is now ready to be filled up again.

SEEKING AID FOR MINERS

Len Ostrander and Elmer Gary, representing Local No. 2350, United Mine Workers of America, at West Wheeling, O., arrived here Tuesday to canvass the city for the benefit of striking coal miners of Eastern Ohio.

The visitors called on Mayor Adam Frick for a permit to solicit funds, but the mayor feeling that local laboring men would probably have to be the chief contributors, and not wanting them to be taken advantage of, he insisted that the Central Labor Council leaders first approve their credentials before starting their canvass. This they arranged to do.

The visitors declare they are representing only their local and not the district, which they said contains from 12,000 to 15,000 miners out of employment.

Washington Denies Consul Undesired

Cutright, who was vice consul at Nottingham, sailed from England, Jan. 16 for the United States, having relinquished his office of his own volition and upon the insistence of his family, according to state department officials. He is the son of an old personal friend of Secretary Bryan and his purpose in going abroad was educational.

REFORM MEASURES BEFORE ASSEMBLY

Columbus, Jan. 19.—With additional committee appointments ready for announcement by Speaker Conover, and the rules committee about to make its report, the house was prepared to get down to business this afternoon. Nothing was on the senate calendar but perfunctory second reading of the eighteen bills introduced yesterday.

Representative Kramer, of Richland county, minority floor leader, had prepared a bill for introduction "to provide an honest election on questions submitted by a referendum vote." It would effect the reforms demanded by dry interests following the recent demand for a recount of ballots on the lame rule amendment in the four most populous counties in the state, and the supreme court's refusal to mandamus Secretary of State Graves to order a recount. The machinery provided by the Keamey bill for a recount and contests on a referendum reform is similar to that already established for contesting candidates' elections.

Representative Hoy, of Jackson, has a civil service bill ready for presentation in the house similar to that introduced in the senate yesterday by Senator Moore to eliminate the non-competitive examination feature of the present law, remove certain positions from civil service regulations, and reduce the state and municipal commissions to two members. Two bills amending the nominating-by-petition law, to eliminate the expensive system of circulating petitions before a primary, were about to be thrown into the house hopper. Representative Kramer's bill would provide that a person could become a candidate for nomination merely by filing a declaration of his intention before the primary.

The measure prepared by Representative Morris, of Fairfield, would compel a candidate for nomination to secure only a nominal number of names on a petition, and to pay a fee of one percent of the first year's salary for the office he seeks. Five to twenty-five names would have to be secured on petitions for local offices and 25 to 50 for the state officers.

In addition to being chairman of the Federal Relations Committee Sprague is named a member of the appropriation and finance, corporations, fees and salaries, and fish and game committees.

ITALY AGAIN SHAKEN

the survivors of the catastrophe refuse to seek shelter in their houses and are gathered in the open, suffering terribly from exposure.

Many Other Towns Suffered Destruction As relief and rescue work goes forward it appears that some districts just south of Avezzano were as badly afflicted as that town, with the percentage of dead to the total population almost as large. The situation in the case of many towns and villages is most desperate as adequate relief measures have not been taken, and the number of persons working in the ruins is very small.

Orteuchia, southeast of Avezzano, is reported as having at least 2,000 victims, fully half of whom have been found buried in the ruins of the cathedrals there.

The town has been virtually razed and now more than six days after the first shock, sanitary condition among the living are becoming almost unbearable. The same story comes from other towns in the vicinity, San Benedetto, with 4,000 out of its 5,000 population dead; Paterno, with but 200 of its 2,000 persons still alive; Pescina, with 4,000 and more buried and many other towns.

King Victor Emmanuel is touring the stricken district by automobile, constantly distributing supplies, cheering the victims, sending the orphans to Rome for care and rendering other assistance.

BOWDLE'S EULOGY ON "THE OLD MAN"

In response to requests from a number of persons we reprint from the Congressional Record, the eulogy on "The Old Man" delivered in congress last week by Hon. Stanley Bowdle, of Cincinnati, in the course of the debate upon the suffrage amendment. Incidentally, Mr. Bowdle has aroused the wrath of the militant suffragettes of the land and a select group of them, with a bunch of men in favor of their propaganda, held an indignation meeting in Washington to say things about him. They said a plenty, but Bowdle dismissed their attacks with the remark that the men were mollycoddlers and the women had better be at home. Here is his eulogy on "The Old Man":

"Mr. Speaker, there is in America today a forgotten institution known as the 'old man.' I know him, you know him. Our mothers knew him and honored him, and he honored them. But he is now forgotten and often derided. Suffragists insult him. I looked upon his frozen features as he conquered the Antarctic Zone, while women burned up five millions of his property at home, made by him with back-breaking labor. I have seen his face in the deadly saffron flames of molten metal, where a mismanagement meant death. I have been with him in the bowels of steamships, in work taxing nerves and strength, where a mistake of a thousandth of an inch meant ruin. I have been with him in the grease and slime of repairs to great engineering apparatus. I have gotten up with him in the frosty darkness of the morning to go to the great shops of the cities, while leisure America slept. I have eaten with him his spare breakfasts. I have seen him, multitudes of him around the forges of the world at noon dining from buckets, yet always cheerful. I have seen him pinned beneath locomotives, with his flesh frying on his bones and his hand still gripping the throttle, when his last question was as to the passengers and his last message was to a woman. I have gone in imagination 5,000 feet into the sea and visited the Titanic wreck and have seen 500 of him, cold in death, still in the shaft alleys, engine and boiler rooms, and each dead at his post; and a thousand more I saw, all men, who had nobly offered their lives that women might live. I have seen multitudes of him in the lagoons and morasses of virgin countries, shaking with malaria, yet pushing forward the frontiers of life that more life might safely live upon this planet.

I have visited the trenches of battle fields populous with his rugged corps, unarmingly dying for his country. I have seen him strapped upon the plank of the guillotine and stand upon the scaffold with head bloody but unbowed, offering his life as a witness to his principles. I have seen him upon the calvaries of this world drinking the vinegar of temporary defeat. I have seen him labor with his philosophies, without hope of gain, that men might be happier here and—better know their end, and the number of their days, and be led to incline their hearts unto wisdom—

"And I have seen him work in music, and laboriously chisel in all arts that he might better teach his fellows the divine destiny of the race. Yes; I have seen all this, and you have seen it. Mr. Speaker, and it has convinced me long since of man's divine origin and destiny. Despite the buffeting of sin, the angel in him has overcome the Jacob in him at Jabbok, and I this day believe the inspired account of his creation, when Jehovah, speaking with an unnumbered multitude of the heavenly host, said, 'Let us make man in our own image and likeness.'

"This, Mr. Speaker, is man 'the tyrant.' This is the being of whom Miss Shaw said the other day, 'All we ask of man is that he stand out of our sunshine.' This is the being who is no longer able to represent women, who indeed misrepresents them, though he furnishes the world its meal ticket."

THE ELUSIVE KARLSRUHE

The German war ship, Karlsruhe, seems to be a regular wiper of the wisp. She has the valiant war correspondents on the jump. One day they will send her to Davy Jones' locker and the next she will appear in some far off quarter of the globe peacefully pursuing her job of sinking English, French or Russian merchantmen. Some day, no doubt, she will run into superior force and like the Bauden, she will go down after valiant battle with colors flying, giving to the world another spectacular example of German heroism.

One of the striking incidents of the war has been the great work of the German navy, at least such part of it as escaped being bottled up by superior allied navies. It goes to show the wisdom of the English policy, from their standpoint, of keeping their fleet numerically far superior to that of Germany. With anything like an equal show there certainly would have been things doing in the old English channel long ere this. What the result would have been no man can foretell.

There is one thing to be said in favor of these continuously rainy days. It is better to get a little bit of a time than to have it all come at once.

"MY DEAR GOVERNOR."

SLAUGHTERED BY HIS FRIENDS.

And so the Willis hook has reached out and selected for the first victim a man whose distinction it ever was to have been a most uncompromising Republican. We allude to the retirement of George Walters from the state banking superintendency, upon order of the governor. Mr. Walters may find consolation in the fact that he has made a good official and that he had the almost solid endorsement of the banking interests of the state. He may also find food for much reflection in the further fact that the men most active in demanding his removal from office were those prominent in his own party in his own home town. Had he been here Monday he would have seen much covert smiling and shuffling of hands among the gentlemen who have boasted that they run Republican politics in Scioto county, because he had been ousted. He too would have heard some quiet boasting of the sturdy fellows put in against him down in these parts. Walters might even have heard his Republicanism questioned by new recruits. All of which might make Walters, bitter partisan that he has been, and is, marvel greatly. However, it carries its own lesson, the lesson that after all, selfishness is the supreme rule in politics, in most cases. The rampant opposition here among Republicans to Mr. Walters was confined to aspirants for office for themselves. They felt that if he was appointed it would be a stumbling block to some other patrons from this county as too many good things would not go to the same county. Walters was in the way of too many hungry office seekers and so each contributed his brick. If he ever had any chance of reappointment it was killed by the local opposition. In the face of that Governor Willis, nor no other governor, would have reappointed him. Every one familiar with politics knows that.

And so the local Republican gang should be given due credit. If it has not obtained any major offices as yet, it has knocked one of its former members out of office.

"I don't see what you got agin' young Doc Sellards", said the man who stands on the First National Bank corner every day in the year, holidays included, as he opened the door into the bank lobby for the man with the broken arm. "Here you gave a list of fellows to speak at Charlie Dixon's feed at New Boston, and you never boosted Doc. He's the best little speaker of the bunch and the personal representative of Governor Willis down here. Doc ought run to the feed but he wouldn't run away, like Warren Harding did."

A friend suggests that Warren Harding might have merely used Charlie Dixon's feed as an excuse to get out of the country. He says maybe. Warren really wanted to get out of reach of that legislature up at Columbus.

The Steel Road

There's a steel road, a real road, that runs among the trees, That dashes over outcrops and clambors over hills; There's a white road, a bright road, that's swifter than the breezes, And, easterly or westerly, it wanders where it will!

And it's ha, then, it's go, then, along the shining rails, A speeder for your chariot upon a summer's day; It will lead you, will speed you, through green and dewy dales, The forest for your canopy upon your royal way!

There is no other then a care then—the town is left behind, You're free as any meadow lark that circles in the blue. Like a swallow you follow the rails as they unwind— In all the world around you there is just the road and you!

And when play ends and day ends, and ruddy in the West, When birds come singing from the fields and sailors from the foam,

We are afraid that Mr. Villa may deem it wise and necessary for the proper conduct of his plan of pacification to line his friend, Mr. Zapata up against a stone wall with a firing squad immediately in front. Of course he will have to catch the principal for the little soiree first.

The then steel road, the real road, the road that leads to rest, Is the white road, the bright road, the road that leads to home!

—Douglas Malloch.

Spring Styles
A number of feminine readers have written in asking us concerning the spring styles for women. It is our constant aim to please, although we may seldom hit the mark and we take pleasure in handing out the following absolutely accurate fashion hints.

Bustles will not be worn in the best circles this year.

Hips and curves are coming in again to some extent. Those who laid their hips on the top shelf of the clothes press some years ago can take them down, dust them off and use them with perfect propriety.

Gowns will button up the back as usual, no gown being really swaggy unless it has 5,674 buttons. These are recommended especially to married women who have impatient husbands.

Red flannel chest protectors will be in vogue especially in the pneumonia belt of northern states.

Porous plasters will be much worn in exclusive circles, especially during the early spring.

Earmarks are considered passe by the smart set of polite society, but they are still being worn by those who don't want to hear what their neighbors are saying about them.

Smith Is Missing

Although police scoured the whole city and railroad yards they failed to find any trace of Floyd Smith who escaped from a Mansfield reformatory parole officer near the N. & W. depot Monday morning.

It is reported that Smith, after boarding the Williamson express train and alighting on the other side, ran around to the pilot of the engine of the passenger train remaining unobserved by the engine crew and there is no telling how far east he traveled. Police officers have instructions to arrest him on sight.

FREDERICK MOUSE

(Who Was Greedy and Didn't Mind.)

I'll tell you a story of Frederick Mouse, If you'll cuddle right down and be good; He lived at the top of a very old house And ate just whatever he could.

He had little black eyes and a love of a tail, And his whiskers, oh, my, they were sweet; But his parents declared that it made them turn pale At the quantity Frederick could eat.

He'd nibble on paper, he'd nibble on cheese; He'd gobble his meals, and before His father and mother were through he'd say, "Please, I wish you would give me some more."

His parents said: "Frederick, we really are grieved At the way you eat paper and such; If we hadn't seen we would not have believed That a little mouse could eat so much."

But Frederick, he paid no attention at all To the things that his kind parents said. He flitted his whiskers and ran down the hall In search of some meat or some bread.

At the end of the hall sat a small wooden trap That some human being had brought; With a small piece of cheese and a wire that went "Snap!" Whenever a mouseie was caught.

Naw, Frederick he wanted that cheese, so he thought: "My parents will not care at all If I just take a bite," which he did, and was caught Before he could cry out or call.

Now I don't want to have a sad end to this tale (A tail of a mouse, so to speak), So I'll tell you, his parents rushed up very pale And his life was saved by a S-q-u-e-a-k!

The moral of this little tale I'll hasten to unfold: You never must be greedy and must mind what you are told.

FRUIT GROWER CONSIDERS SCIOTO COUNTY FAVORABLE

William Graf, a former Scioto county, now a prominent and well-to-do fruit rancher of Durango, Colorado, is here with his wife visiting his nephew, Lew W. Ditty, a well-known cafe owner. Mr. Graf also expects to visit home folks at Laverhill and relatives in Columbus, Pittsburgh and other places before returning West. It is his first visit here in eight years. He is the county fruit inspector of La Platte county, Colorado, and known as one of the most successful fruit growers of that section. He regards it as strange that people of Scioto county do not awaken to the possibilities of fruit growing, declaring that the advantages offered here are unequalled anywhere.

COLORED MASONS COMPLIMENTED

Officers of Easton Commandery, No. 23, Knights Templar (colored) were highly complimented after the annual inspection by H. C. Gilbert, Grand Captain-General, of Columbus, Monday evening. Following the inspection, the members and their distinguished guest repaired to the restaurant of Benjamin Bell, where an elegant spread was served. On Tuesday evening Mr. Gilbert will inspect Scioto Chapter No. 9, Royal Arch-Masons.

MAN WANTED 5 YEARS ARRESTED IN MICHIGAN

Of local interest the Cincinnati Times-Star says: "Deputy Sheriff J. S. Eggers, of Greenup, Ky., passed through Cincinnati Saturday with John Vandergriff, 22. Vandergriff, the sheriff said, was convicted of burglary five years ago in Greenup and shortly thereafter broke jail. He fled to Michigan, married a young woman at Macleona and secured employment in a steel plant at Adrian.

The reputation of Vandergriff was such in Adrian that citizens of the town put many legal obstacles in the way of the sheriff. Eggers located the young man about a year ago and went to Lansing with requisition papers which were issued by Governor McCreary. The papers were lost while he was conversing with Governor Ferris, of Michigan, in the latter's office. Eggers said, and he was forced to return to Kentucky without his prisoner.

Vandergriff, who had been arrested, was released. He did not show, however, and when Eggers went to Michigan several days ago, expressed a willingness to return. Eggers recently pursued and caught his own son who had fled into

One feature of the underground crossings to be built by the C. & O. The Markets

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, Jan. 19.—All records for strength and activity since the resumption of business were surpassed by today's stock market. The entire list moved forward, under lead of former favorites.

Active trading was resumed in the final hour, leading increasing its gain to two points. Brooklyn Transit also became a feature.

The closing was strong. Following its early law, the advance was resumed on about the largest scale witnessed since the renewal of business. Transactions in the first hour aggregated 140,000 shares and embraced the greatest variety of issues.

The significant feature, however, was that favorites asserted their former leadership, although Missouri Pacific led all stocks in point of activity. United States Steel changed hands in blocks of 1,000 to 1,700 shares, gaining a point.

Extraordinary ease of money, as seen in the steady reduction of emergency currency, was perhaps the most potent factor in the movement. Bonds were strong.

Stocks opened with another burst of activity and generally higher prices, but trading settled down before the end of the first half hour. With such exceptions as Missouri Pacific, Lehigh Valley and Son, all of which rose a point or more, gains were most fractional. Bethlehem Steel declined a point probably in the belief that the directors will not declare a dividend on the stock at today's meeting. It soon made partial recovery. As usual, of late, a large part of the dealing was in the specialties, with a good demand for copiers.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Jan. 19.—Increased rates in the west counted against the bulls today in grain. Lower quotations at Liverpool had also bearish effect, and so did the renewal of snow protection throughout the winter crop belt, especially western Kansas. After opening 3 1/2 to 1 1/2 lower, the market rallied somewhat, but later sagged further than before.

Corn turned heavy with wheat. Besides, cables were disappointing to friends of higher prices. The opening which varied from 1/4 to 3/4 off to 1/2 advance, was followed by a moderate setback all around.

Continued selling by one of the largest houses weakened oats. Bit speculators seemed to have monopoly on the demand.

Inquiry for provisions was slow. A decline in hog prices appeared to make buyers cautious.

Subsequently quietness of export demand led to a decided break in prices. The bears made much use of talk about government inquiries and of the possibility of an embargo act. The close was unsettled, 2 1/4 to 3 1/2 to 2 3/4 under last night.

The pronounced weakness that developed in wheat was symptomatic of springing by corn, declines being stubbornly contested. The close was steady at a loss of 1 1/8 to 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 act.

OPENING

Wheat: May, $1.41 1/2; July, $1.25.

Corn: May 79 1/2; July 78 1/2.

Oats: May 51 1/2; July 50 1/2.

CLOSING

GET TRINITY CHURCH FOR KLEIN LECTURE

Trustees of Trinity M. E. church have granted the use of the church auditorium to the local Building Trades Council for the lectures to be given by Nicholas Klein, the Cincinnati attorney and labor leader, on the afternoon and evening of February 2nd.

Final arrangements for the local appearance of Mr. Klein were made Monday by Harry Strong, business agent of the Council, who went to Cincinnati to confer with Mr. Klein. Upon his return at midnight, Monday, he announced that Mr. Klein had accepted the generous offer of the church trustees and would come February 2nd. The subjects of the two lectures will be "My Experience in the War Zone" and "Religion of Inspired Politics."

Proceeds of the lectures will be used to succor the families of unemployed men in this city, the distribution to be under the auspices of the officers of the Building Trades Council.

Mr. Klein is well known in this city, having represented the striking shoe-workers during the hearing of the injunction case in the local courts about a year ago. He has only recently returned from Europe and at the outbreak of the war was in the midst of the zone affected by the opening of hostilities.

One of the conditions imposed by the church trustees in offering the use of the church for the lectures was that nothing should be said that would reflect upon citizens of Portsmouth or that would create discord in the ranks of the laboring people. To this condition Mr. Klein acquiesced gladly, and the committee is authorized for the statement that his lectures will be keenly enjoyed by all who attend.

Final arrangements for the lecture will be made at a meeting of the committee in charge, which will be held Tuesday evening at the Central Labor Council hall. The prices to be charged for admission to the lectures and other matters in connection with the local appearance of Mr. Klein will be determined at that time.

The committee includes Harry Strong, business agent of the Building Trades Council, and Edward Von Lohr, A. Lyons, Clarence Pyles, William Briggs, Geo. Miller, William Tilton, and Mint White.

Attitude of The School Board

This is the lecture which the Building Trades Council sought to have given in the High School auditorium on some Sunday, the proposition being turned down by the Board of Education. The Times has been asked to state that the board in making its decision in the matter had before it the proposition to allow the lecture to be given for pay on a Sunday and that it was because it was to be given on a Sunday that permission to use the auditorium was denied, and that members of the board expressed themselves favorably toward giving the use of the auditorium on a week night, but this proposition was never before them.

CLASH IN TAXI WAR

The first clash in the taxi war occurred late Monday night, when complaint was made to the police that "Red" Haynes, a chauffeur, had spee'd along Third street.

It was claimed that Haynes was traveling at the rate of fully 35 miles per hour. Haynes, when seen by officers, denied having been on Third street Monday night. He said if the facts were known, it was an opposition taxi which got spee'd.

Street Rwy. Claims N. Boston Council Has Made Mistake

"Members of the New Boston council are laboring under the wrong impression when they think the franchise we were granted to operate our traction line through that village became null and void because we did not begin to put down the tracks prior to December 31, 1914," said Raymond York, vice president of the Portsmouth Street and Railroad and Light company, Tuesday.

At a meeting of the New Boston council last night steps were taken to declare void the franchise for Rhodes avenue on the ground that it contained a proviso rails must be laid by December 31, 1914.

"There is nothing in our franchise that specifies any definite time as to when we should begin putting down the tracks," continued Mr. York. The franchise under which we are to operate did call for a full across Rhodes avenue and we have complied with this.

"In 1911 we made application for the vacation of certain streets and we agreed to open others in their place and have complied with this agreement, also. There is nothing in our franchise calling for the laying of tracks before December 31, 1914. We have complied with all the stipulations in the franchise and expect to have our line go over Rhodes avenue as originally planned and to have work begin on the extension in the early spring."

MAYOR OF NEW BOSTON AND COUNCIL IN A ROW OVER 'LIGHTING LIGHTS'

The passing of a resolution transferring funds, a tilt between Mayor J. S. Davis and Member Charles Dixon, and passing of an ordinance granting the Portsmouth Steel company right to lay an acid pipe under the surface of Ohio avenue between its two plants, were the features of the regular meeting of New Boston council Monday evening.

A schedule of bills amounting to $30.25 was allowed. After considerable discussion a resolution was passed ordering the transfer of certain moneys for the purpose of reimbursing funds.

$153.22 was transferred to the general fund, one-half of it from the Water Works fund and the other half from the Sewer Fund.

$445 was transferred to the Service fund from the Water Works fund.

$310 was transferred to the Service fund from the Sewer fund.

$2784.33 was transferred from the Sewer fund to the Harrisonville avenue fund.

The introduction of an ordinance defining duties of the deputy marshal was the cause of Mayor Davis and Member Dixon clashing. The ordinance read:

"That it shall be the duty of the Deputy Marshal in addition to the duties prescribed for him by law to light all street lights within the village at or about 6 o'clock each evening and to extinguish such street lights between the hours of 4 and 6 the following morning."

Mayor Davis said, "I positively refuse to instruct the deputy to enforce these duties."

Dixon came back with a statement that "there is a law to make the mayor perform his duties." Dixon further said that Mayor Davis had no right to dictate to council.

The mayor vacated his chair refusing to put the motion for the passing of the ordinance. President Pro Tem Frank Wolfe then took the chair and put the motion. With Taylor and Harris voting nay the ordinance could not be passed and had to be laid aside for another reading.

Ordinance No. 98 was referred to and it was found that in the agreement the city was to put Gallia pike in the shape it was before the water mains were laid and that it was not up to Contractor John A. Grimes as Mayor Frick had stated in a letter to Charles Dixon.

The engineer and street committee were instructed to meet with the Peoples Realty company in regard to the cut that is to be made on Gallia pike through the Peoples addition.

Clerk Thomas O'Neal was instructed to notify the Portsmouth Street Railway and Light company that the franchise for a line on Rhodes avenue was void. The franchise with the village called for tracks on Rhodes avenue before December 31, 1914, it was claimed by council.

Engineer Harper was instructed to bring in estimates on the paving of Harrisonville avenue, Gallia pike, Park avenue, Rhodes avenue, Grace street, Vine street and Ohio avenue. The street committee was instructed to construct a sidewalk on one side of the fill made on Rhodes avenue near Center street.

Lime Starvation Causes Tuberculosis

"The Medical Record (New York) of November 18, 1909, contains an article on 'The Treatment of Pulmonary Tuberculosis Based on the Assumption That the Bacterial Cause of the Disease is Lime Starvation,' by Dr. J. H. E. Russell, who says: 'The condition which is recognized as preceding the active development of tuberculosis in the adult may be considered as due to lime starvation. Among inorganic substances, lime salts appear to be of special physiological importance. But if the salts are not in organic combination with a difficultly assimilable lime, they are not assimilated as such, but are excreted as lime salts. It is in the belief that the excess of Ekinan's Alternative in cases of pulmonary tuberculosis (consumption) and chronic throat and bronchial troubles is due in large measure to its content of lime, as combined with other ingredients as to be easily assimilated by the body.'"

Had Made Threats, But Had Provocation

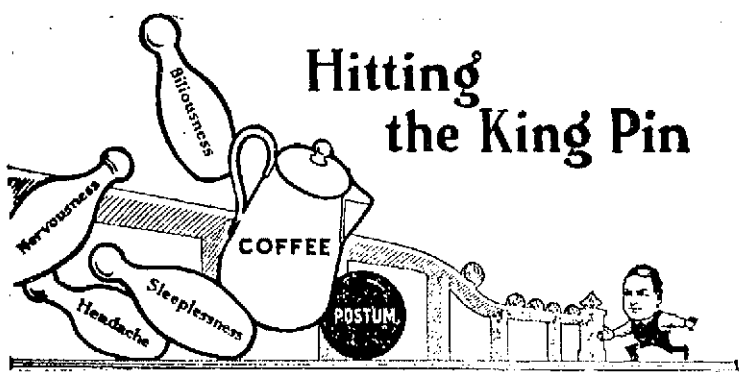

The hearing of John Austin for threatening Henry Bumgarner, a cripple, for alleged shooting at his wife, developed the fact that he had made threats, but that he probably had some provocation.

It was shown that Bumgarner had spoken to the colored woman and asked her if she wanted him to go home with her and help her drink the beer she was carrying in a bucket. Bumgarner denied this, but the woman insisted he had thus spoken to her. The mayor dismissed the case, with the advice to Austin to first seek recourse in the law and admonished Bumgarner to report to him if he was ever threatened again.

Frank Jenkins convulsed the crowd of spectators by relating how "Shorty" Betts had invited him to look at a fine, big lump of coal that had rolled from an N. & W. car, only to see a detective approaching. Betts took to his heels, but he, himself, remained riveted to the spot, for "he had done nothing," Melvin Jenkins, a brother, pleaded that this same Betts had hired him to load a push-cart for him, agreeing to pay him 25 cents. Betts escaped, leaving him to "hold the bag." Evidence was produced to show that other accused coal thieves made frequent trips up and down the N. & W. right of way, and as there are no coal stations in that vicinity, and get all of the accused are well supplied with fuel, the mayor convicted the Jenkins boys, Henry Hurd, Rich Harris and Will Doolley, fining each $10 and costs and sentencing them to the city work gang, and should they fail to work on the streets they will be committed to the workhouse.

Wallace Combs and Sam Yates, charged with fighting, forfeited $10 each. John Maston, a cripple, who was caught loitering on the streets, was ordered to leave the city.

WALKED IN BARE FEET THROUGH SNOW TO LEARN ENEMY'S IDENTITY

Berlin, Jan. 19.—A young volunteer from Charlottenburg describes in a letter from the front a daring reconnaissance undertaken by himself, with a sergeant major and four other men, in an effort to learn which French regiment was posted in the trenches 600 yards away. A reward of 150 marks and the Iron Cross had been promised should the expedition succeed, but the six men declared that they would accept no money.

They started on a dark night, walking in stocking feet as quietly as possible through snow, and gradually approached the enemy's trenches until they were but fifty yards away. Then they were hailed with a "who goes there?" "Parols who have lost their way," answered the young Charlottenburger, "don't shoot, we are comrades."

"Of what regiment?" called the French.

"The German advanced another ten yards, and the young volunteer asked: "Where is the road to Marienthal?"

The answer was another query: "What regiment do you belong to?" The sergeant major answered with a shot. The French cried out, jumped back into their trench and opened fire. It was taken up all along the trench and the bullets hailed about the Germans, who jumped backward a few paces and threw themselves face down. Three quarters of an hour they lay thus without moving. Then the French, who had meantime been strengthened, left their trenches, climbed over the barbed-wire entanglements in front and came forward, searching for the intruders.

"Let them come on," whispered the sergeant major. Suddenly he commanded squad fire. Volley after volley greeted the advancing Frenchmen, many of whom fell. The Germans retreated rapidly a few paces and again threw themselves down and remained motionless. Rifle fire tore up the ground around them and whistled over their heads. Rockets began to light up their position, and machine guns added to the danger. The little party withdrew, leaving one of its number dead, and regained the German trenches.

R. R. OFFICIALS CONFER WITH BOARD OF TRADE ON THE RATE QUESTION

For the purpose of enlisting the support of the directors of the Portsmouth Board of Trade in favor of the movement to increase the passenger rates to be charged on railroads operating in Ohio from two cents to two and one-half cents per mile, leading passenger officials of the three railroads passing through Portsmouth met the directors at the Board of Trade rooms in the Masonic Temple, Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The object of the railroad men is to have the legislature repeal or amend the Freiner law, passed March 10, 1906, fixing the maximum passenger rate at two cents. They claim that the present standard of efficiency can not be maintained at that price.

It was announced at the meeting that the civic organizations of Hamilton and Middletown had endorsed the movement Monday, the opening day of a campaign that is state-wide in character. W. R. Fisher, General Passenger Agent of the Buckeye Valley Railroad Company, is chairman of the movement.

Those present at the conference Tuesday afternoon included: A. L. Ellett, A. G. P. A., O. M. Spain, T. P. A., respectively, of the C. & O., of Cincinnati; W. C. Saunders, G. P. A., J. L. Hladin, D. P. A., of the N. & W., of Rome; Thomas J. West, P. A., and W. G. Brown, A. G. P. A., of the B. & O. S. W., of Cincinnati; and R. E. Scott, D. A. Grimes, and G. W. Wharf, local agents, respectively of the N. & W., C. & O., and B. & O. S. W.

Several of the visiting railroad men delivered addresses at the meeting, giving reasons why the present two cent fare law should be repealed.

When the approval of the different organizations have been secured, a bill repealing or amending the Freiner law will be introduced into the state legislature at the present session.

Lucasville Institute

The Lucasville Farmers' Institute, which opened Monday, is now in full swing and the meetings are being well attended. Tuesday's session was featured by a splendid dinner prepared by Miss Blah Jones and Miss Lucile Moore, who are connected with the domestic science department of the Lucasville high school. It was served in four courses and members of the Jones Concert company who have entertained the institute with vocal and instrumental music were invited to partake of the splendidly cooked dinner.

At the Tuesday morning session of the institute, which is being held in the Lucasville high school, the speakers were C. F. Green, who spoke on "Milk and Beef Production," E. O. McCowan, county superintendent of schools, spoke on "The New School Laws," F. W. Burlingame spoke on "The Home of Marketing," and Miss Clara Rogers' subject was "The Study of Foods." Each speaker was received with much enthusiasm and the meetings have been well attended. J. S. Violet has been acting as chairman.

"SHINE"

NOPE. YOU CAN'T STUMP SHINE ON A LITTLE THING LIKE THAT.

CROSS, FEVERISH CHILD IS BILIOUS OR CONSTIPATED

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy: they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

C. & O. Bridge Builders Rush Work With Added Equipment

The rapid progress the Dravo Contracting company is making on the Chesapeake and Ohio Northern Railway bridge that is to span the Ohio river at Sciotoville will call for the employment of more men soon, adding to the growing better times of the community.

At present there are about 100 men on the job every day in the week, including Sundays. The latest arrivals on the scene of activity are the steamer Frank Tyler, four flats and mixer boat No. 3 which came in Saturday from New Martinsville, W. Va., where the boats and flats were used when the Dravo company worked on Ohio river dam No. 16 recently completed. The arrival of the boats was heralded by the blowing of nearly every whistle on all the company's boats. The Sciotoville townspeople were given a surprise when all the whistles started to toot and many hurried to the bridge site to see what it was all about. The mixer boat has a 100 foot steel tower from which the concrete is sent in chutes to the place where it is wanted.

The first concrete was poured for the base of Pier No. 17, the main Ohio river bank pier, on December 29, and since that time the concrete mixer has been hard at work every day until now the pier is 35 feet high above the rock base. The base is 12 feet down in solid rock which insures a solid support. This is the only pier work that is being done as the high river has put a stop to all work on the main river pier. The only thing visible to show where the pier will be in the middle of the river is a buoy. The buoy is a guide to Ohio river packets to steer clear of the coffer dam.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Live Meeting in East End

One of the best meetings in the history of the East End Troop was held last night at the Grandview church. Arthur Doll gave a very interesting account of his work in the securing of a merit badge for pioneering. Then followed four three minute talks on scout subjects, as follows: "How to Make a Successful Troop," by Frank Davis; "The Ideal Patrol Leader," by Corwin Knowles; "What Is a Good Scout?" by Harry Doll; "How to Increase Interest in Patrol Meetings," by Arthur Doll.

Then came the real feature of the evening, which was an address by Captain W. H. Williams, G. A. R. veteran. Mr. Williams had the boys with him from the start of his talk to the finish, and told a number of interesting incidents back in the days of 1861-65, when serving in the Union Army. It was a rare treat, and greatly enjoyed by the large crowd of boys present.

Four new members were received as follows: Fred Seibert, Stanley and Clyde McCoy, William Seagles.

Debate Postponed
Owing to the illness of one of the debaters for the negative side the debate which was to be held tonight between Troops 1 and 3 has been postponed indefinitely. The next scheduled debate is next Monday evening at the Grandview church.

THE TRUTH ABOUT CATARRH

A Germ Disease That Can Be Stopped By Killing Germs Which Cause It

A good many claims are made for this and that remedy for Catarrh and doubtless, if you are a sufferer from this disease, you have yourself tried many of them and received no permanent benefit.

The fact remains, however, that there is a way to get rid of Catarrh forever and certainly the method most likely to succeed and to cure where all else has failed is one that your own druggist has so much faith in that he will sell it to you on a positive guarantee of success or money back.

That's exactly the way that Winstone Brown, and many other leading druggists in this vicinity are selling Hyman's great Catarrh germ-killer, a wonderful medicated but pleasant smelling air which you breathe into your nose, throat and lungs through a small inhaling device that druggists furnish. Hyman's is made from the pure healing oil of Eucalyptus, combined with other powerful germicidal ingredients and it not only cleans up the head and air passages and heals the sore, swollen, inflamed membranes of your nose and throat but it goes farther and does more, it penetrating air is absolute and positive death to every Catarrh germ in your system. It destroys them utterly. And when the germs are all dead and all the disagreeable symptoms stop, if you have Catarrh breathe Hyman's. It is the only sensible thing to do and you gain nothing and lose much by waiting. Don't trust to memory. Put this out of the paper now and take it into your druggist the very next time you pass his store. Insist on getting the complete outfit which includes the free rubber inhaler as it is very necessary to use this inhaler to get best results.

EVERY MEMBER A REAL ARTIST

THE METROPOLITAN GRAND QUARTET.

A QUARTET of great singers each of whom has achieved a national reputation as an individual artist is unusual. Such an organization is the Metropolitan Grand Quartet, with the following exceptional personnel: Mr. Paul Chaso, lyric tenor, noted oratorio and operatic singer, for years a member of leading church choirs in Detroit and Cleveland; Charles A. Neib, lyric tenor, pupil of King Clark of Berlin and member of Wurtzburg (Germany) Opera Company; Thomas W. Lang, basso cantante, for several seasons with Schubert and Savage light and grand opera companies, and John Eberly, for eight seasons at the head of the Eberly Concert Company, and recognized as one of the best Lyceum baritone in America. Mrs. Willo Page Lang is the competent pianist of the company. Every member of this company is an exceptional artist. They can sing—individually and collectively. Their program will stand with any concert program being given on the American platform. Our people will surely be delighted with them.

The fifth number of the High School lecture course will be the Metropolitan Male Quartet, who appear at the High School Auditorium Wednesday evening. The Quartet is the best that ever was in Portsmouth and the highest prize made quartet on the Lyceum Bureau. The performance begins at 8:15 to allow those attending church to get in before the entertainment begins.

STOMACH TROUBLES DUE TO ACIDITY

So Says Eminent Specialist

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, wind, and stomach-ache are in probably nine cases out of ten simply evidence that fermentation is taking place in the food contents of the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acids. Wind distends the stomach, and causes that full, oppressive feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the fermenting food. Such fermentation is unnatural, but may involve most serious consequences if not corrected. To stop or prevent fermentation of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid, and render it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of bisulphated magnesia, probably the best and most effective corrector of acid stomach known, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water immediately after eating, or whenever wind or acidity is felt. This stops the fermentation, and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments. Fermentation, wind and acidity are dangerous and unnecessary. Stop or prevent them by the use of a proper antacid, such as bisulphated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist and thus enable the stomach to do its work properly without being hindered by poisonous gas and dangerous acids.—M. F. P.

Labor Unions Protest Against Foreign Labor

Resolutions protesting against the employment of imported foreign labor in municipal and county improvement work, and protesting against the employment of West Indian negroes in the Panama Canal work, were adopted unanimously by the Central Labor Council Monday evening.

Officers were elected for the coming year, Mervin D. Cunningham being re-elected unanimously for president for another year. Friendly contests marked the election of the other officers, which resulted as follows: Vice-president, Henry Uhl; recording secretary, F. M. Burdick; financial secretary-treasurer, George H. Klink; trustees, George Koerner, Elmer Hise, William Tilton; guide, F. Hyatt; warden, Everett Specht.

The resolution protesting against the employment of West Indian negroes on the Panama canal is exactly similar to the one adopted by the Pipe-fitters last Friday evening, which was published in Saturday's Times. The resolution referring to local work is as follows:

Whereas, The labor on the Scioto bridge is being done by foreigners, while many citizens of Portsmouth are out of work and living on charity; and

Whereas, Scioto county money should be expended as much as possible in Scioto county, the laborers in said county should be given preference over foreign labor; therefore,

Be it Resolved, By the Central Labor Council of Portsmouth and vicinity, that we ask our county commissioners and our city officials to have Portsmouth citizens employed on public work in preference to imported foreigners.

BIG PAY DAY

Saturday will be pay day with employees of the Portsmouth Steel Company. As most of the big plant in New Boston has been operated the past three weeks, the firm will have the largest pay for several months. Four open-hearths, four sheet mills, the blooming mill, bar mills and jobbing mill are running full tilt this week.

Greenup Co. Votes On "Good Roads"

The roads to be improved and specified in the bond issue are as follows:

Greenup to Wurtz and to Ketches.
Fullerton to Wurtz.
Greenup to Argillite, to Oldtown, to Hopewell.
Greenup to Lynn, Brushy and White Oak country.

George Randolph Chester

Famous Author, says:

"Why shouldn't a man be willing to recommend a tobacco which gives as cool, sweet and satisfying a smoke as Tuxedo?"

George Randolph Chester

For Mentally Alert Men—Tuxedo

George Randolph Chester's "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford" stories have delighted thousands through the mental alertness, good humor and keen mind shown by the wily promoter.

When George Randolph Chester writes of things typically American he knows what he is talking about; and when he endorses Tuxedo—the typically American tobacco—his endorsement carries great weight with the keen-minded, alert and brainy smokers of this country.

Tuxedo

The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

Tuxedo is made especially to maintain the American spirit of good humor. Its constant use benefits a man in mind and body, by keeping him happy and physically fit.

Tuxedo is the finest Kentucky Burley—the world's premier smoking-tobacco leaf—made absolutely non-biting by the original "Tuxedo Process" that has never been successfully imitated. Tuxedo is delightfully mild, fragrant, rich, and gives a cool and satisfying smoke. Tuxedo is in a class by itself.

IRONTON STILL HOPES FOR BASEBALL TEAM

Ironton is still hopeful of being in the baseball world next year. The Register says: "Billy Doyle, one of the two scouts retained by the Cleveland Naps, when they cut off heads last week, was in the city today calling on Dick Smith, to talk over the baseball situation both local and national."

"The action of the Naps in trying to break up the National commission was the main subject of Doyle's statements and he said, 'Why, they are trying to ruin the game. There is not a chance in the world of a minor league club staying if they have to make an iron clad contract with every player they sign. As it is now they have had going to break even with the privilege of selling the stars to the higher class but when that goes and the iron clad contract a necessity, there is no hope and all minor league managers are preparing to quit if the decision goes against the National commission.'"

"Regarding the local situation both men admitted that there is a movement on foot to finance a club in Ironton next summer if the O. B. forces win the Fed suit, but each refused to divulge any further information relative to the plans of the new combination though they admitted that it was a new combination."

"The question of a club for the next year has been talked over by the fans for some weeks now and all are of one opinion that the city needs one and that they want one but as this is the usual stove league spirit, nothing can be depended upon, though the general revival of business may have some effect on the plans. It will, as Billy says, all depend on how the Fed suit is settled by the Chicago courts."

"The Irontonian says: 'It is understood that the local Ohio State league officials, who were at the head of the baseball teams from this city during the past few years, will be represented at the league meeting and after that some definite steps, looking toward the placing of a team in this city will be taken.'"

"President Bob Read, of the league, realizes that he cannot secure a better circuit than the one that he had with the beginning of last year and if the salary limit is placed low enough to allow Ironton, Mayville, Chillicothe and Huntington to stick then the league should be a go in this city and the team should prove a decided success. However, it is hardly likely that an effort will be made to go the limit that the club went last year as there was absolutely no limit throughout the league that was respected, and but few of the cities in the organization are willing to support a team with a salary limit that runs so high. Consequently there were wails of grief from many of the cities that lasted through the season."

"Most every baseball enthusiast in the city hopes that some arrangement can be made whereby the city will have baseball next season and all will await the developments of the near future with interest."

May Lack Quorum

Unless Judge George M. Osborn returns from Cincinnati this city council will lack a quorum Wednesday night—the first occurrence of the kind with the present body.

Messrs. Guller, Moeller and Shump left Tuesday for a trip to Florida and Judge Osborn is in a hospital at Cincinnati. He had expected to return home last Friday. The effect of the failure to hold a meeting will be that the semi-annual appropriating ordinance will not be passed as usual at the second meeting of the year. Then too the police, firemen and other city employees who usually are paid semi-monthly will have to wait until Feb. 1 for their January salaries.

Suspected Officers Tried To Poison Dog

Arthur better known as "Big Seven" Welch, a North End negro, called at the mayor's office Monday evening and again Tuesday morning, to unburden himself regarding an attempt to poison his bull terrier dog.

Welch suspected that Officers Charles Flowers, Jake Cooper and a third policeman had thrown a chunk of poisoned meat into the yard of his home on Waller street, between Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets Sunday evening. His wife, he said, had informed him that just as three officers were passing she heard something drop into the yard. She was sitting near the window and looking out saw a white object on the ground and thought it was a book. The dog was nearly barking vigorously. When the husband came home from church she reported the incident to him and he investigated. He found a bundle consisting of a chunk of meat covered with a poisonous powder and wrapped in manila paper. The dog had not touched the meat.

Officers Flowers and Cooper both denied having been in that vicinity at any time Sunday night.

REPRESENTATIVE AND MAYOR ARE "WRITING" ABOUT LIQUOR LAWS

Representative W. R. Sprague writing to the mayor says he finds that there is a strong sentiment on both sides of the liquor proposition in favor of introducing as little temperance legislation as possible during the present assembly. He adds that in view of the fact that the question of re-adjustment of the license law will come up shortly it has been suggested to him that the mayor's proposed measure closing saloons on holidays be deferred until that is taken up, with the probability that it will at that time be acted upon.

The mayor replying to Mr. Sprague's letter advises that the amendment can not in any way be considered as "Temperance Legislation" and that instead its classification comes clearly within the regulatory laws such as legislation requiring the saloons to close at uniform hours all over the state and should therefore be introduced without awaiting the probable introduction of other measures to which this amendment might be attached.

CANNIBAL HORSE?

Mrs. John Scherer of 1314 Grandview avenue believes that at least one horse in this city has cannibalistic tendencies and should be forced to wear a muzzle, she basing this belief on an experience she had this morning. Mrs. Scherer had been visiting her daughter Mrs. Ed Breunert of Sixth street, and when returning home crossed Campbell avenue near the school house. In the middle of the street a horse which she says was pulling a delivery wagon carrying the sign of Coriell, the grocer, deliberately followed her and bit her on the arm. Fortunately the horse's teeth did not penetrate the skin, but the imprint of the teeth are plainly visible. Mrs. Scherer believes the horse should be muzzled.

Officials View The Proposed Crossings

Commissioners Bennett and Spencer, County Surveyor Kinley and Special County Engineer A. J. B. Somerville, William Michael and H. B. Watters, chief engineer and resident engineer, respectively, of the C. & O. Northern Railroad, and Arthur H. Bannan, representing the legal department of the road, started out early Tuesday morning to make a tour of the proposed route of the new railroad.

Careful note will be taken of the site of the proposed crossings, seventeen in number, for the permission to construct which petition was filed with the county commissioners by officials of the road Monday afternoon. Special attention will be given to the investigation of the proposed shifts of the roads to conform to the plans of the crossings which were also filed with the county board Monday.

All of the crossings with the exception of two, one at Harrisonville and the other at Fallen Timbers, will be either underground or overhead crossings. The two exceptions are grade crossings, and the approval of the county plans court will be necessary before they can be constructed. The party started on the inspection trip at Sciotoville, and followed the proposed route which covers a distance of fifteen miles from the Ohio River to the Pike county line. The greater portion of the day was consumed in making the trip.

Upon their return, the county commissioners will make a thorough investigation of the plans of the railroad company relative to the crossings, and it will be several days before they will make known their decision. They will depend on Engineers Somerville and Kinley for the feasibility of the projects, while Presenting Attorney Micklethwait will look into the legality of the plans as proposed.

The Mayor And Health Board Split On Physician Question

The city board of health, which met in special session Monday to consider the question of hiring an assistant for City Physician Dr. C. W. Wendelken, adjourned without settling the question. Adjournment was taken on a motion to leave the question of legality to name an assistant to the city physician. A meeting will be called within a few days to further consider the matter with the advice of the solicitor.

Mayor Frick, as chairman of the board of health, informed the members that they will have to be as economic as possible and that he does not see any necessity for an extra physician.

Mr. Labold, in his opening statement, stated that he did not think it was the proper thing for the mayor to publish a letter on the matter before meeting with the board.

The mayor informed the members that he wants the public to know what is being done. Mayor Frick presents a section of the board of health rules which says that extra help or additional money would only be forthcoming in case of epidemic or threatened epidemic, or during the unusual prevalence of a dangerous contagious disease. As these conditions do not exist, the board cannot legally put on an assistant, claims the mayor.

The board members favor an assistant because extra work is demanded of the city physician at this time of the year and that many former pay patients are now coming to the city physician for aid.

Mayor Frick says, according to reports, there is less sickness in this city now than any other time and that the city physician should be able to take care of the work.

Mr. Smith was of the opinion that pay for an assistant would be money well spent and that the amount needed for the extra man is very little. Mr. Smith stated that the board has been conducting an economic basis for some time and that some means ought to be provided for them to get money necessary to pay the extra man.

Mr. Labold suggested that it would be advisable to have the solicitor present so that he might inform them on such matters before they take any action.

When the last budget was prepared no provision was made for this extra expense. The city physician gets $75 a month for his services. According to Mayor Frick, the action taken by the board was purely illegal and not according to law. He is quite sure the solicitor will be able to show the members their mistake in so far as the legality of the matter is concerned.

OHIO SUPERIOR COURT IS THREATENED IN NAMING TRUSTEES FOR THE SOUTHERN R. R.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 19.—With the appointment of Ex-Mayor Henry T. Hunt as a member of the board of trustees of the Southern railway came an unusual announcement from the three superior court judges. The court's statement follows:

"Shortly after it became known that a vacancy existed upon this board of trustees, a message was brought to us that unless we appointed a gentleman whose name had been suggested, certain powerful influences would be directed toward procuring the passage at the present session of the general assembly of an act abolishing this court. We promptly struck this gentleman's name from the list of possible appointees. More recently we have been informed, through perfectly reliable sources, that if we did appoint the gentleman whose name we are about to make public, potent forces would be brought to bear upon the general assembly not only to abolish this court but also to wipe out the board of trustees itself.

"Thus we were given to understand that the security of our positions upon the bench was to depend upon our subservience to the demands of those who desired either to procure the appointment of a favorite or to prevent the appointment of one whom they refused to purchase a longer tenure of office at the price of our independence and self respect. If we are to be legislated out of existence we shall have the satisfaction of knowing that we have maintained, in this respect at least, the high traditions of this court."

The name of the man referred to was not made public.

SALARIES OF RAILROAD ENGINEERS ARE HIGHER THAN THE PAY DRAWN BY SEVEN GOVERNORS

Chicago, Jan. 19.—Governors of seven states of the United States could make more money sitting in the cab of a locomotive on some of the runs of western railways than they now receive in the executive chairs of their respective states.

This statement was made here last night by James M. Sheehan, attorney for the western railroads, whose engineers, firemen and hostlers are demanding higher wages and better hours, in outlining the railroad side of the case to the board of arbitration. Presentation of evidence for the men began November 30, 1914, and was completed today, after which Sheehan made his remarks.

Sheehan went on to say that the annual salaries of these governors are smaller than the wages received by some of the locomotive engineers of western railroads who ask wage increases, which Sheehan said, would amount to $40,000,000 a year.

"Of the 5,000 men whose wages for the entire year to June 30, 1913, will be shown," Sheehan continued, "there is a maximum of $3,725.20 for engineers, $3,342.30 for freight engineers, $1,752.20 for passenger firemen, and $1,890.32 for freight firemen. Against these maximums the governors of seven states receive $3,000 a year or less, while those of seven others receive $4,000, or slightly above the engineers' maximum earnings."

"Actual earnings statements for all engineers and firemen for the month in which these demands were presented, show that engineers in passenger service earned actually an average of $185 for the month, with a maximum actual earning of $341; in the freight service the average was $170, with the actual maximum of $358, the month earned an average of $115, with a maximum of $210, while in freight service their actual earnings for the month were on the average of $110 with a maximum of $221. Other firemen in combination earned and passenger service earned even higher wage.

Comparison of their wages with those of any other craft, or of any other railway employees, or of engineers and firemen in other parts of the country show that they are already receiving a higher compensation in both rates of pay and rules."

Shipping Bill Goes Before Caucus Again

Washington, Jan. 19.—The senate commerce committee met today to put the finishing touches on several important amendments to the government ship purchase bill, designed to perfect the measure so as to meet the opposition of the Republican minority in the senate. The amendments were referred back to the committee by the caucus of senate Democrats which met last night to discuss them.

The committee will lay the perfected amendments before another caucus of senate Democrats to be held tonight for final action on the shipping bill.

DEPLORABLE CONDITIONS FOUND IN THE WRECKED CITIES OF ITALY

Populace Without Food and Dead Bodies Lie Uncovered At Street Corners

Tagliacozzo, Jan. 19. (Via Rome).—Not less acute than the misery and suffering of the people of Avezzano is that of the inhabitants of the entire district to the south, in Pescara, San Benedetto, Glati de Marsi and other towns. The loss of life and damage to property in these places is equally as great but the needs of the sufferers have received far less attention.

Soldiers have arrived at several of these places to aid in the work of rescue but there is a great scarcity of food for both troops and the people. The temporary shelters provided are also inadequate to protect the people from the increasingly cold weather.

Paterna, high upon the mountain-side, has suffered probably more than any other town in the whole earthquake region. Less than 200 persons have been saved out of a population of 2,000 and not a single house remains standing.

Along the main road from P. to Avezzano traffic has ceased except for a few motor cars carrying supplies and some country carts which, when encountered, were generally laden with two or more coffins.

Dead Bodies Lie Uncovered In Streets

The flourishing town of Pescara is a mass of ruins from which there is already distinctly perceptible a faint sickening odor of dead bodies. More than 4,000 people of Pescara are buried beneath the fallen buildings. Some of the corpses which have been recovered lie on the ground at street corners while others are hastily engulfed in coffins made of the first wood obtainable.

Although living persons are still being dug out of the ruins there are only 150 soldiers at Pescara to assist the survivors in rescue work. The few surviving town officials complain bitterly of the government's neglect. They say no bread has been obtainable since Saturday and that the people and soldiers have had nothing to eat but vegetables brought from neighboring villages.

Pescara lost its most famous landmark, the sixteenth century castle of the Piccolomini family, and the house where the famous Cardinal Mazzarini was born.

Nearly Entire Population of Town of 4,500 Perishes

The condition of the surviving population at the town of San Benedetto, near Pescara, is deplorable. Over 4,000 of the inhabitants perished out of a total population of 4,500.

The town of Colano, northeast of Avezzano, lost 1,000 dead through the earthquake. There are also many injured and thousands of persons are without shelter. A majority of them have been compelled to pass the bitter cold nights in the open air.

GOOD WHEAT CROP PROMISED FOR OHIO

Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 19.—The monthly crop report of the state agricultural commission indicates that there will be a good wheat

FRENCH WAR STATEMENT

Paris, Jan. 19.—Snow fell yesterday in Belgium, in Northern France and in the Vosges, but nevertheless there was artillery fighting in these sections of the line of battle, according to the official communication of the French war office given out this afternoon.

French troops have re-occupied the trenches at La Boisselle, previously given up by them to the Germans. Yesterday saw no further fighting at Soissons, but near Pont A. Mousson the French claim a slight advance.

The text of the communication follows:

"In Belgium there has been a snow-storm and also intermittent artillery exchanges at certain points. There was also a fall of snow yesterday in the region of Arras, where our heavy artillery on several different occasions silenced the batteries of the enemy."

"As we set forth yesterday, a fairly spirited engagement has been developing at La Boisselle where, following the breaking out of several fires, we were compelled during the night of January 17-18 to evacuate our positions. These, however, we re-occupied Jan. 18 at daylight. The enemy has not renewed his attacks on this part of our front."

"In the section of Soissons the bombardment of the suburbs of St. Paul during the night of Jan. 17-18 was not followed by any infantry attack, and the day of Jan. 18 passed in absolute calm."

"In the valley of the Aisne, to the east of Soissons and in the section of Rheims, there were yesterday artillery exchanges."

"To the northwest of Pont A. Mousson we yesterday occupied another field of work of the enemy, in the forest of La Pretre, where we today occupy 600 yards of the trenches of the enemy."

"In the Vosges yesterday saw a snow-storm. Here also there has been artillery fighting, particularly in Ban de Sapt and in the neighborhood of Thann."

GERMAN WAR STATEMENT

Berlin, Jan. 19. (By Wireless to London).—The German official statement given out in Berlin today says:

"In the Western theatre, except for a few unimportant skirmishes, only artillery duels took place along the entire front."

"In the eastern theatre the weather was very unfavorable."

"At Radonow, at Gjezhun and at Sierpoc, north of the Vistula river, the Russians were repulsed with heavy losses. Several hundred prisoners remained in our hands."

"On the west of the Vistula river and on the east of the Pilia river, the situation generally remains the same."

Such symptoms don't necessarily prove that you are ill, but they are certain indications of weakened nerve force and evidence that your nerve cells are not being properly nourished and strengthened. Your whole system—mental and physical—is below par and you are only 50 per cent efficient—just half your real self. In such a condition you can do nothing better or get quicker action than by taking a few weeks' treatment of the wonderful new nerve remedy called Margo. This is the most remarkable prescription ever found for putting back the "good old pep" in folks who are chronically tired, debilitated or run down. The chief reason for its success is that it contains some of the most important elements of active living nerve force. Margo acts quickly. It gets straightway into your nerve cells and blood and freshens and brightens you right up. It gives you ambition, courage, will power and real vital vim and does not contain a single habit-forming drug. It is always safe, easy, pleasant and efficient. Fisher & Streich Pharmacy and leading druggists everywhere sell it in large boxes—40 tablets to a package on an absolute guarantee of satisfaction or money back.

MOTOR BUSES WORRY TO TRACTION LINES

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 19.—In two propositions submitted to the city council, abandonment of projects for municipal ownership of street railways was forestalled because of motor bus competition. One, a resolution introduced by the leader of the municipal ownership forces in the council, provides for dropping all litigation seeking to acquire an electric line to a suburban town. The other, a message from Mayor Hiram C. Gill, asked a bill passed by the city council, to submit to voters a plan to extend the present municipal line three miles. The mayor's message said:

"Automobiles are about to supersede our lines. Street railways in all parts of the country are experiencing difficulty in raising money for fear of motor bus competition."

FRENCH BULLET FINDS COURSE IN BARREL OF GERMAN'S GUN

London, Jan. 19.—Twenty-one following story told by a wounded respondent in Amsterdam sends the soldier:

"From one of the trenches I watched an adversary, 70 yards away. It was an easy shot, and I was sure of success. I was just pulling the trigger. My aim was clear, my bullet could not fail."

"Suddenly I started. I saw, and when I recovered I found my rifle clutched in the back and the clench. I had an ugly wound on my forehead. I examined my rifle and found in the barrel a French and a German bullet, both flattened. What had happened?"

"After close examination I discovered that a German bullet had entered my rifle at the muzzle. It followed the course of the barrel, had exploded in the center and the bullet of my rifle, and thus had wounded me."

HOT TEA BREAKS A COLD---TRY THIS

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Tee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a tea cup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.

Chicago, Jan. 19.—Manufacturers of a ten cent loaf of bread throughout the United States were recommended at a meeting here yesterday of the Efficiency Board of the National Bakers' Association. The board is made up of bakers from 25 cities. They believe this action is necessary as a result of the high price of wheat. Bread weighing 26 or 27 ounces can be produced for 10 cents a loaf at a profit. It was said where as a loss must be faced in the manufacture of a five-cent loaf weighing 12 ounces.

The report of the Efficiency Board it was said will show that at the normal price, flour comprises 73 per cent of the manufacturing cost of bread.

Tarbell and Representative Davis J. Lewis, of Maryland, were to be called as witnesses.

Babson, a statistician of Wellesley Hills, Mass., told the commission yesterday their views on the rights of labor and each assailed the "absentee control" of many of the leading industries of the country as being unfair to the workers and contrary to good business policy.

Mr. Untermyer denounced a national corporation law, the abolition of the control of corporations by small interests, compulsory minority representation, and the doing away with voting by proxy.

WALKED IN BARE FEET THROUGH SNOW TO LEARN ENEMY'S IDENTITY

Berlin, Jan. 19.—A young volunteer from Charlottenburg, describes in a letter from the front a daring reconnaissance undertaken by himself, with a sergeant major and four other men, in an effort to learn which French regiment was posted in the trenches 100 yards away. A reward of 150 marks and the Iron Cross had been promised should the expedition succeed, but the six men declared that they would accept no money.

They started on a dark night, walking in stocking feet as quietly as possible through snow, and gradually approached the enemy's trenches until they were but fifty yards away. Then they were hailed with a "who goes there?" "Patrols who have lost their way," answered the young Charlottenburger; "don't shoot, we are comrades."

"Of what regiment?" called the French.

"Of the twentieth," was the answer.

The Germans advanced another ten yards, and the young volunteer asked: "Where is the road to Maricourt?" The answer was another query: "What regiment do you belong to?" The sergeant major answered with a shot. The French cried out, jumped back into their trench and opened fire. It was taken up all along the trench and the bullets hailed about the Germans, who jumped backward a few paces and threw themselves face down. Three quarters of an hour they lay thus without moving. Then the French, who had meantime been strengthened, left their trenches, climbed over the barbed-wire entanglements in front and came forward, searching for the intruders.

"Let them come on," whispered the sergeant major. Suddenly he commanded squad fire. Volley after volley greeted the advancing Frenchmen, many of whom fell. The Germans retreated rapidly a few paces and again threw themselves down and remained motionless. Rifle fire tore up the ground around them and whistled over their heads. Rockets began to light up their position, and machine guns added to the danger.

MOTOR BUSES WORRY TO TRACTION LINES; HURT MUNICIPAL PLAN

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 19.—In two propositions submitted to the city council, abandonment of projects for municipal ownership of street railways was foreshadowed because of motor bus competition. One, a resolution introduced by the leader of the municipal ownership, forces in the council, provides for dropping all litigation seeking to acquire an electric line to a suburban town. The other, a message from Mayor Hiram C. Gill, vetoed a bill passed by the city council to submit to voters a plan to extend the present municipal line three miles. The mayor's message said:

"Automobiles are about to supersede car lines. Street railways in all parts of the country are experiencing difficulty in raising money for fear of motor bus competition. A hearing had been called at the request of the Portland Railway, Light and Power company, which operates the trolley cars of Portland. The street railway company represented that the motor buses, by handling short haul traffic exclusively and paying nothing for the privilege were a menace to the prosperity of the street car company which was obliged to carry people to the outlying districts for a five cent fare and to pay heavily in licenses and other dues.

CAN'T SHIP BOOZE INTO WEST VIRGINIA, BLUE'S NEW EDICT

Huntington, W. Va., Jan. 19.—After Fred O. Blue, state prohibition commissioner, had notified the Ohio Valley Electric Railway company yesterday afternoon, that all consignments of liquor for shipment into West Virginia must be refused or the company would be liable to criminal prosecution, officials notified employees of the company to this effect.

Commissioner Blue's telegram, announcing the most drastic ruling yet known in a prohibition state, that no liquor may be shipped into West Virginia by common carrier, follows:

"United States Court of Appeals has held place of delivery of liquor is place of sale in West Virginia and that carrier, delivering same, although Interstate shipment, is common nuisance, subject to injunction and abatement as such. This is to notify you that deliveries of liquors by you in the state must stop at once. Otherwise proceedings to enjoin and abate will be instituted at once."

Injunction Suit Attracts Magnates

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 19.—Club owners of the National, American and Federal leagues swarmed into Chicago today to attend the injunction proceedings instituted by the Federal league against the United States district court tomorrow. Practically every club owner and manager in the two major leagues and Federal organization will be here, it was said, although only few, if any, of the club owners probably will be called to testify. The case will be handled by the executive committee of the Federal league, members of the National Baseball hall commission for the defense and a large number of attorneys.

E. B. Ward, of the Brooklyn Federals, advised President Gilmore of the league that he planned to arrive in time to attend the final conference late today of the Federal league's attorneys. Gilmore, at the request of his lawyers, gave up a proposed trip to New York so he could preside at the conference.

Men identified with all three leagues discussed with some surprise the attitude made yesterday by Roger P. Bresnahan, manager of the Chicago Nationals, who gave what is claimed to be the "inside" dealings he had with the Federals.

Bresnahan, according to his affidavit, related that he was offered a yearly salary of $12,000 together with $50,000 in stock and a bonus of $2,000 to sign as manager of the St. Louis Federal club.

After Fletcher Jones had been signed as manager of the St. Louis club, Bresnahan alleged that he was offered a contract calling for $20,000 for three years service and the owners of the Brooklyn Federals. The offer also included a $10,000 bonus, he said, for deserting the Chicago Nationals.

"Howdy" Indians

Cleveland, Jan. 19.—The Cleveland American League Baseball Club will in the future be known as the "Indians." The team was given its new nickname by a committee of local sporting writers at a meeting Saturday.

The change in the name from "Naps" was made because of the passing to the Philadelphia Athletics of Nap Lajoie, after whom the team formerly was nicknamed.

The Cleveland American Association team will be known as the "Spiders."

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a tablespoonful of Salts if Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but because of the overwork, they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, tell of symptoms, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night, when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Kid Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in uric acid, to endow a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Kid Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

RUCKER'S ARM IS O. K.

New York, Jan. 19.—According to two Brooklyn doctors, Thayer and Eastman, Nap Rucker, the star southpaw, will probably be able to pitch winning ball for the Dodgers again next year. A few weeks ago Rucker had an X-ray taken of his pitching arm at his home in Roswell, Ga., to learn what ailed it. At the suggestion of President Thayer, who was in the South at the time, Nap sent the X-ray photograph to the club's offices, where it was received by Edward McKeever, vice president. The photograph was sent to Dr. Thayer and Eastman, who decided that there was a small growth under Nap's arm, which they say will disappear under a course of treatment.

MORE TRADE TALK

Cincinnati, Jan. 19.—Manager Herzog is quite likely to fall into the city soon, but it was soon discovered that the size of the contracts held by the agents involved made the proposition unavailing. New York wants to have them because they draw more money than they are now worth, considering their age and the fact that they are slowly losing track and Cincinnati can not afford to be saddled with the same burden.

Suggests Relief For Kendall Ave. Traffic

With a view to relieving the present bad conditions on Kendall avenue Mayor Adam Fick has suggested to William Herrens, director of public service, that he install a couple of crossing signals until such time that the street is paved which will of course not be done until petitioned for by property owners.

The mayor would like to see Kendall avenue improved during the present season and asks the city engineer to investigate to ascertain the sentiment among abutting property owners.

The condition of the streets south of the railroad tracks, is almost impassable due, it is claimed, to the street railway company damaging the street in laying its tracks, water standing to the depth of several inches after each rain or thawing period, discommoding pedestrians generally.

GAMES NEXT MONDAY

Kandy Kids vs. Wilson's Five, alleys 4 and 5.
Times Specials vs. Play House Kids, alleys 2 and 3.

By the skin of their teeth, Wilson's Five hung onto first place in the Peerless bowling league, due to the fact that they grabbed off two out of three from the Play House Kids on alleys 2 and 3. The Times Specials whacked Malavazos' Kandy Kids a couple of times and pulled up to a tie for second place.

No records were tabled last night so far as team totals are concerned. Ed Benjamin middle man for the Malavazos quieted put up the big score of the evening, 225. He came right back with 198 and finished his work with the splendid average of 193. The lengthy exponent was all in the good last night. Capt. Jim Wanless lumped into pretty rough weather after his first game, although he seemed to hit on right, and his average underwent an altar bath.

Capt. Sheridan, of the Times Specials, had high average for his team, together with high score. Roycott was second best.

"Bull" Walters was the white hope of the Wilson brigade and averaged 198 2-3—pretty good thank you. Had Capt. Wilson received anything like an even break in luck, he too, would have been up in the king row. In his second game he seemed to club them fair, but gathered five huge splits that spoiled a great game.

Capt. Prediger was the chief gunner for the Play House Kids and averaged 179 2-3. He ran into a big four split in his second game, otherwise his team would have topped two out of three.

Pearl Cranston was going some and averaged 170 1-3. Campbell also had a fine evening. The scores:

HOW CONNIE MACK WINS GAMES

New York, Jan. 19.—Here are some of Connie Mack's best base ball theories:

Don't fight the umpire; confine your efforts in that direction to the other team.

It is possible to be aggressive without resorting to rovidy tactics.

The less you bother the umpire, the better brand of umpiring he gives you in return.

Close decisions are bound to be given against you. On the whole, it will just about even up for the season.

Every time a star player is put out of the game, he weakens the chances of his team to win.

When a player is put out of the game, he gives neither the public nor the club owner a run for his money.

The umpire will always be the arbitrator on every disputed point, for he is the easiest excuse.

All umpires give the plays just as they see them. The most strenuous protest never results in a reversal.

The public goes to the game to see the teams play ball, not argue with themselves and the umpire.

No team ever kinked itself into a championship. Several teams have kicked themselves out of a pennant.

While discussion of amateurism is now rampant, our entry for the title of world's greatest amateur is Hans Wagner, of Pittsburgh. Wagner pursues his one profession without any attempt at any sideline or any graft—which is one part of amateurism at least.

BOWDLE'S EULOGY ON "THE OLD MAN"

In response to requests from a number of persons we reprint from the Congressional Record, the eulogy on "The Old Man" delivered in congress last week by Hon. Stanley Bowdle, of Cincinnati, in the course of the debate upon the suffrage amendment. Incidentally, Mr. Bowdle has aroused the wrath of the militant suffragettes of the land and a select group of them, with a bunch of men in favor of their propaganda, held an indignation meeting in Washington to say things about him. They said a plenty, but Bowdle dismissed their attacks with the remark that the men were molasses and the women had better be at home. Here is his eulogy on "The Old Man":

"Mr. Speaker, there is in America today a forgotten institution known as the 'old man.' I know him, you know him. Our mothers knew him and honored him, and he honored them. But he is now forgotten and often derided. Suffragists insult him. I looked upon his frozen features as he conquered the Anarectic Zone, while women burned up five millions of his property at home, made by him with back-breaking labor. I have seen his face in the deadly sulfur flames of molten metal, where a misadventure meant death. I have been with him in the bowels of steamers, and have seen him wipe the scalding sweat from his face as he fed belching furnaces. I have been with him working on great engines, in work taxing nerves and strength, where a mistake of a thousandth of an inch meant ruin. I have been with him in the grease and slime of repairs to great engineering apparatus. I have gotten up with him in the frosty darkness of the morning to go to the great shops of the cities, while leisure America slept. I have eaten with him his spare breakfasts. I have been with multitudes of him around the forges of the world at noon dining from buckets, yet always cheerful. I have seen him pinned beneath locomotives, with his flesh frying on his bones and his hand still gripping the throttles, when his last question was as to the passengers and his last message was to a woman. I have gone in imagination 5,000 feet into the sea and visited the Titanic wreck and have seen 500 of him, dead in death, still in the shaft alleys, engine and boiler rooms, and each dead at his post; and a thousand more I saw, all men, who had nobly offered their lives that women might live. I have seen multitudes of him in the lagoons and morasses of virgin countries, sinking with malaria, yet pushing forward the frontiers of life that more life might safely live upon this planet.

I have visited the trenches of battle fields populous with his ragged corps, unnumbered dying for his country. I have seen him strapped upon the plank of the guillotine and stand upon the scaffold with head bloody but unbowed, offering his life as a witness to his principles. I have seen him upon the gallows of this world drinking the vinegar of temporary defeat. I have seen him labor with his philosophies, without hope of gain, that men might be happier here and—better know their end, and the number of their days, and he led to incline their hearts unto wisdom—

"And I have seen him work in music, and laboriously chisel in all arts that he might better teach his fellows the divine destiny of the race. Yes, I have seen all this, and you have seen it, Mr. Speaker, and it has convinced me long since of man's divine origin and destiny. Despite the buffeting of sin, the angel in him has overcome the Jacob in him at Jabbok, and I this day believe the inspired account of his creation, when Jehovah, speaking with an unnumbered multitude of the heavenly host, said, 'Let us make man in our own image and likeness.'"
"This, Mr. Speaker, is man 'the tyrant.' This is the being of whom Miss Shaw said the other day, 'All we ask of man is that he stand out of our sunshine.' This is the being who is no longer able to represent women, who indeed misrepresents them, though he furnishes the world its meat ticket."

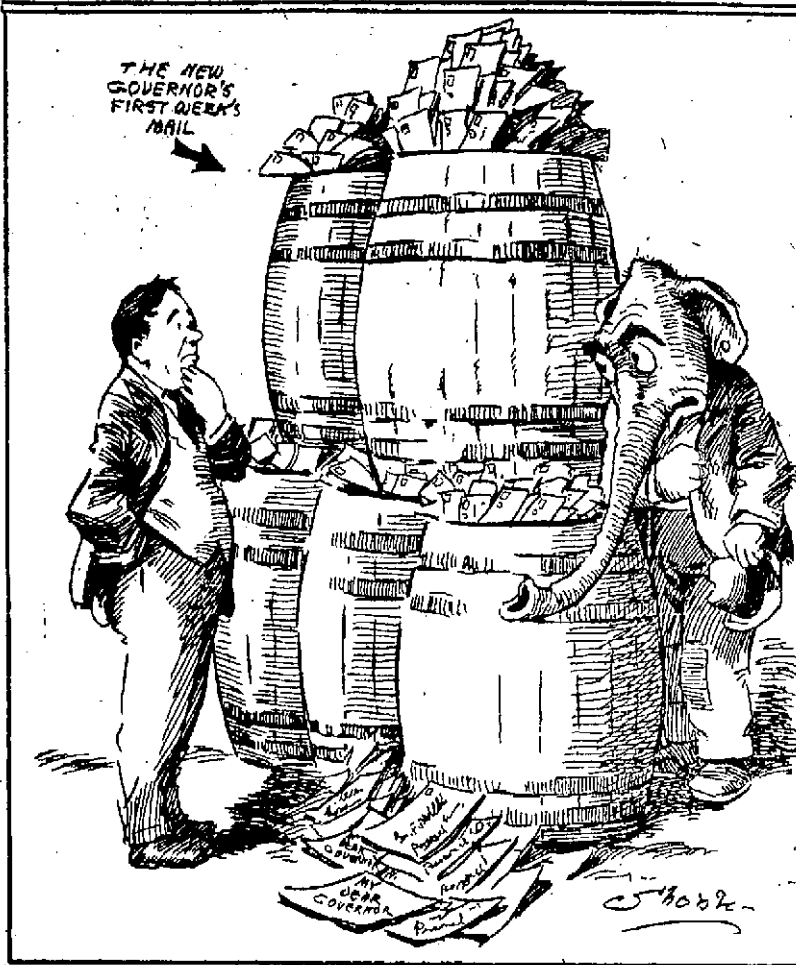

THE ELUSIVE KARLSRUHE

The German war ship, Karlsruhe, seems to be a regular will o' the wisp. She has the valiant war correspondents on the jump. One day they will send her to Davy Jones' locker and the next she will appear in some far off quarter of the globe peacefully pursuing her job of sinking English, French or Russian merchantmen. Some day, no doubt, she will run into superior force and like the Emden, she will go down after valiant battle with colors flying, giving to the world another spectacular example of German heroism.

One of the striking incidents of the war has been the great work of the German navy, at least such part of it as escaped being bottled up by superior allied navies. It goes to show the wisdom of the English policy, from their standpoint, of keeping their fleet numerically far superior to that of Germany. With anything like an equal show there certainly would have been things doing in the old English channel long ere this. What the result would have been no man can foretell.

There is one thing to be said in favor of these continuously rainy days. It is better to get a little bit at a time than to have it all come at once.

"MY DEAR GOVERNOR."

SLAUGHTERED BY HIS FRIENDS.

And so the Willis hook has reached out and selected for the first victim a man whose distinction it ever was to have been a most uncompromising Republican. We allude to the retirement of George Walters from the state banking superintendency, upon order of the governor. Mr. Walters may find consolation in the fact that he has made a good official and that he had the almost solid endorsement of the banking interests of the state. He may also find food for much reflection in the further fact that the men most active in demanding his removal from office were those prominent in his own party in his own home town. Had he been here Monday he would have seen much covert smiling and shaking of hands among the gentlemen who now boast that they run Republican politics in Seinto county, because he had been ousted. He too would have heard some quiet boasting of the sturdy licks put in against him down in these parts. Walters might even have heard his Republicanism questioned by new recruits. All of which might make Walters, bitter partisan that he has been, and is, marvel greatly. However, it carries its own lesson, the lesson that after all, selfishness is the supreme rule in politics, in most cases. The rampant opposition here among Republicans to Mr. Walters was confined to aspirants for office for themselves. They felt that if he was appointed it would be a stumbling block to some other patriots from this county as too many good things would not go to the same county. Walters was in the way of too many hungry office seekers and so each contributed his brick. If he ever had any chance of reappointment it was killed by the local opposition. In the face of that Governor Willis, no or other governor, would have reappointed him. Every one familiar with politics knows that.

And so the local Republican gang should be given due credit. If it has not obtained any major offices as yet, it has knocked one of its former members out of office.

"I don't see what you got agin young Doc Sellards", said the man who stands on the First National Bank corner every day in the year, holidays included, as he opened the door into the bank lobby for the man with the broken arm. "Here you gave a list of fellows to speak at Charlie Dixon's feed at New Boston and you never boosted Doc. He's the best little speaker of the bunch and the personal representative of Governor Willis down here. Doc might run to the feed but he wouldn't run away, like Warren Harding did."

A friend suggests that Warren Harding might have merely used Charlie Dixon's feed as an excuse to get out of the country. He says maybe Warren really wanted to get out of reach of that legislature up at Columbus.

The Steel Road

There's a steel road, a real road,
That runs among the trees,
That dashes over mountains and climbers over hills;

There's a white road, a bright road, that's swifter than the breezes,

And, ousterly or westerly, it wanders where it will!

And it's ho, then, it's go, then,
along the shining rails,
A speeder for your chariot upon a summer's day;

It will lead you, will speed you,
through green and dewy
dales,

The forest for your canopy upon your royal way!

There is ne'er then a care then—
the town is left behind, You're free as any meadow lark that circles in the blue;

Like a swallow you follow the rails as they unwind—
In all the world around you there is just the road and you!

And when play ends and day ends
and ruddy in the West,
When birds come singing from the fields and sailors from the foam,

We are afraid that Mr. Villa may deem it wise and necessary for the proper conduct of his plan of pacification to line his friend, Mr. Zapata up against a stone wall with a firing squad immediately in front. Of course he will have to catch the principal for the little soiree first.

The then steel road, the real road,
the road that leads to rest,
Is the white road, the bright road, the road that leads to home!

—Douglas Malloch.

Spring Styles

A number of feminine readers have written in asking us concerning the spring styles for women. It is our constant aim to please, although we may seldom hit the mark and we take pleasure in handing out the following absolutely accurate fash-

Bustles will not be worn in the best circles this year.

Hips and curves are coming in again to some extent. Those who laid their hips on the top shelf of the clothes press some years ago can take them down, dust them off and use them with perfect propriety.

Gowns will button up the back as usual, no gown being really swagger unless it has 5,674 buttons. These are recommended especially to married women who have impatient husbands.

Red flannel chest protectors will be in vogue especially, in the pneumonia belt of northern states.

Porous plasters will be much worn in exclusive circles, especially during the early spring.

Earmarks are considered passion by the smart set of polite society, but they are still being worn by those who don't want to hear what their neighbors are saying about them.

CLASH IN TAXI WAR

The first clash in the taxi war occurred late Monday night, when complaint was made to the police that "Red" Haynes, a chauffeur, had speeded along Third street.

It was claimed that Haynes was traveling at the rate of fully 35 miles per hour. Haynes, when seen by officers, denied having been on Third street Monday night. He said if the facts were known, it was an opposition taxi which got pocketed.

FOR LITTLE FOLK

FREDERICK MOUSE

(Who Was Greedy and Didn't Mind.)

I'll tell you a story of Frederick Mouse,
If you'll cuddle right down and be good;
He lived at the top of a very old house
And ate just whatever he could.

He had little black eyes and a lave of a tail,
And his whiskers, oh, my, they were sweet;
But his parents declared that it made them turn pale
At the quantity Frederick could eat.

He'd nibble on paper, he'd nibble on cheese;
He'd gobble his meals, and before
His father and mother were through he'd say, "Please,
I wish you would give me some more."

His parents said: "Frederick, we really are grieved
At the way you eat paper and such;
If we hadn't seen we would not have believed
That a little mouse could eat so much."

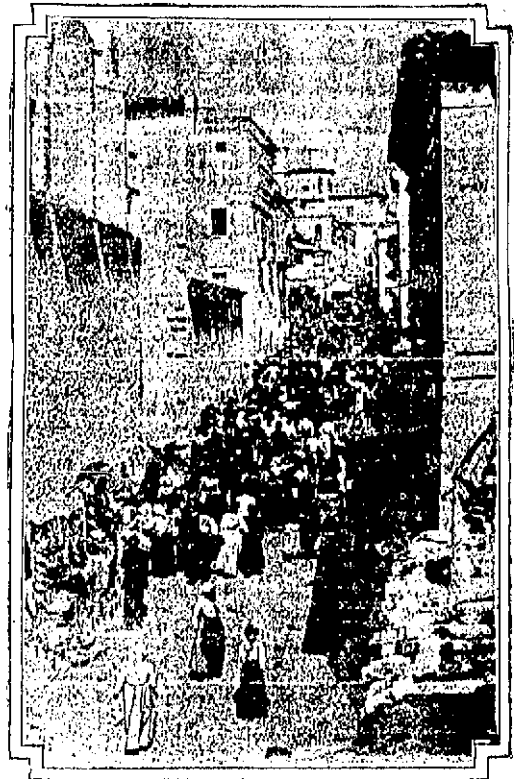

But Frederick, he paid no attention at all
To the things that his kind parents said.
He flirled his whiskers and ran down the hall
In search of some meat or some bread.

At the end of the hall sat a small wooden trap
That some human being had brought;
With a small piece of cheese and a wire that went "Snap!"
Whenever a mouse was caught.

Now, Frederick he wanted that cheese, so he thought:
"My parents will not care at all
If I just take a bite," which he did, and was caught
Before he could cry out or call.

Now I don't want to have a sad end to this tale
(A tale of a mouse, so to speak),
So I'll tell you, his parents rushed up very pale
And his life was saved by a S-q-u-e-a-k!

The moral of this little tale I'll hasten to unfold:
You never must be greedy and must mind what you are told.

MAN WANTED 5 YEARS
ARRESTED IN MICHIGAN

Of local interest the Cincinnati
Times-Star says:

"Deputy Sheriff J. S. Eggers, of Greenup, Ky., passed through Cincinnati Saturday with John Vandergriff, 22. Vandergriff, the sheriff said, was convicted of burglary five years ago in Greenup and shortly thereafter broke jail. He fled to Michigan, married a young woman at Marcella and secured employment in a steel plant at Adrian.

"The reputation of Vandergriff was such in Adrian that citizens of the town put many legal obstacles in the way of the sheriff. Eggers located the young man about a year ago and went to Lansing with requisition papers which were issued by Governor McCreary. The papers were lost while he was conversing with Governor Ferris, of Michigan, in the latter's office, Eggers said, and he was forced to return to Kentucky without his prisoner.

Vandergriff, who had been arrested, was released. He did not flee, however, and when Eggers went to Michigan several days ago, expressed a willingness to return.
Eggers recently pursued and caught his own son who had fled into Ohio. The father said his son shot in self-defense at a man who was attacking him with a knife, but the bullet killed a bystander.

GET TRINITY CHURCH FOR KLEIN LECTURE

Trustees of Trinity M. E. church have granted the use of the church auditorium to the local Building Trades Council for the lectures to be given by Nicholas Klein, the Cincinnati attorney and labor leader, on the afternoon and evening of February 2nd.

Final arrangements for the local appearance of Mr. Klein were made Monday by Harry Strong, business agent of the Council, who went to Cincinnati to confer with Mr. Klein. Upon his return at midnight, Monday, he announced that Mr. Klein had accepted the general offer of the church trustees and would come February 2nd. The subjects of the two lectures will be "My Experience in the War Zone" and "Religion of Inspired Politics."

Proceeds of the lectures will be used to succor the families of unemployed men in this city, the distribution to be under the auspices of the officers of the Building Trades Council.

Mr. Klein is well known in this city, having represented the striking shoeworkers during the hearing of the injunction case in the local courts about a year ago. He has only recently returned from Europe and at the outbreak of the war was in the midst of the zone affected by the opening of hostilities.

One of the conditions imposed by the church trustees in offering the use of the church for the lectures was that nothing should be said that would reflect upon citizens of Portsmouth or that would create discord in the ranks of the laboring people. To this condition Mr. Klein acquiesced gladly, and the committee is authority for the statement that his lectures will be keenly enjoyed by all who attend.

C. & O. Bridge Builders Rush Work With Added Equipment

The rapid progress the Dravo Contracting company is making on the Chesapeake and Ohio Northern Railway bridge that is to span the Ohio river at Sciotoville will call for the employment of more men soon, adding to the growing better times of the community.

At present there are about 100 men on the job every day in the week, including Sundays.

The latest arrivals on the scene of activity are the steamer Frank Tyler, four flat and mixer boat No. 3 which came in Saturday from New Martinsville, W. Va., where the boats and flats were used when the Dravo company worked on Ohio river dam No. 15 recently completed. The arrival of the boats was heralded by the blowing of nearly every whistle on all the company's boats. The Sciotoville townspeople were given a surprise when all the whistles started to toot and many hurried to the bridge site to see what it was all about. The mixer boat has a 100 foot steel tower from which the concrete is sent in chutes to the place where it is wanted.

The first concrete was poured for the base of Pier No. 17, the main Ohio river bank pier, on December 28, and since that time the concrete mixer has been hard at work every day until now the pier is 35 feet high above the rock base. The base is 12 feet down in solid rock which insures a solid support. This is the only pier work that is being done as the high river has put a stop to all work on the main river pier. The only thing visible to show where the pier will be in the middle of the river is a buoy. The buoy is a guide to Ohio river piers to steer clear of the coffer dam.

The Mayor And Health Board Split On Physician Question

The city board of health, which met in special session Monday to consider the question of hiring an assistant for City Physician Dr. C. W. Wendtken, adjourned without settling the question. Adjournment was taken on a motion to leave the question of legality to name an assistant to the city solicitor. A meeting will be called within a few days to further consider the matter with the action of the solicitor.

Mayor Frick, as chairman of the board of health, informed the members that they will have to be as economic as possible and that he does not see any necessity for an extra physician.

Mr. Labold, in his opening statement, stated that he did not think it was the proper thing for the mayor to publish a letter on the matter before meeting with the board.

The mayor informed the members that he wants the public to know what is being done. Mayor Frick presents a section of the board of health rules which says that extra help or additional money would only be forthcoming in case of epidemic or threatened epidemic, or during the unusual prevalence of a dangerous contagious disease. As these conditions do not exist, the board cannot legally put on an assistant, claims the mayor.

The board members favor an assistant because extra work is demanded of the city physician at this time of the year and that many former pay patients are now coming to the city physician for aid.

Mayor Frick says, according to reports, there is less sickness in the city now than any other time and that the city physician should be able to take care of the work.

Resolutions protesting against the employment of imported foreign labor in municipal and county improvement work, and protesting against the employment of West Indian negroes in the Panama Canal work, were adopted unanimously by the Central Labor Council Monday evening.

Officers were elected for the coming year, Mervin D. Cunningham being re-elected unanimously for president for another year. Friendly contests marked the election of the other officers, which resulted as follows: Vice-president, Henry Elt; recording secretary, F. M. Burdick; financial secretary-treasurer, George H. Kliek; trustees, George Koerner, Elmer Hise, William Tilton; guide, F. Hyatt; warden, Everett Specht.

The resolution protesting against the employment of West Indian negroes on the Panama canal is exactly similar to the one adopted by the Pipe-fitters last Friday evening, which was published in Saturday's Times. The resolution referring to local work is as follows:

Whereas, The labor on the Scioto bridge is being done by foreigners, while many citizens of Portsmouth are out of work and living on charity; and

Whereas, Scioto county money should be expended as much as possible in Scioto county, the laborers in said county should be given preference over foreign labor; therefore,

Be it Resolved, By the Central Labor Council of Portsmouth and vicinity, that we ask our county commissioners and our city officials to have Portsmouth citizens employed on public work in preference to imported foreigners.

EVERY MEMBER A REAL ARTIST

THE METROPOLITAN GRAND QUARTET.

A QUARTET of great singers each of whom has achieved a national reputation as an individual artist is unusual. Such an organization is the Metropolitan Grand Quartet, with the following exceptional personnel: Mr. Paul Chase, lyric tenor, noted oratorio and operatic singer, for years a member of leading church choirs in Detroit and Cleveland; Charles A. Neth, lyric tenor, pupil of Klag Clark of Berlin and member of Wurlitz (Germany) Opera Company; Thomas W. Lago, basso cantabile, for several seasons with Schubert and Savage light and grand opera companies, and John Eberly, for eight seasons at the head of the Eberly Concert Company, and recognized as one of the best Lyceum baritones in America. Mrs. Willo Page Lane is the competent pianist of the company. Every member of this company is an exceptional artist. They can sing—individually and collectively. Their program will stand with any concert program being given on the American platform. Our people will surely be delighted with them.

The fifth number of the High School lecture course will be the Metropolitan Male Quartet, who appear at the High School Auditorium Wednesday evening. The Quartet is the best that ever was in Portsmouth and the highest price made quartet on the Lyceum Bureau. The performance begins at 8:15 to allow those attending church to get in before the entertainment begins.

MAYOR OF NEW BOSTON AND COUNCIL IN A ROW OVER 'LIGHTING LIGHTS'

The passing of a resolution transferring funds, a tilt between Mayor J. S. Davis and Member Charles Dixon, and passing of an ordinance granting the Portsmouth Steel company right to lay an acid pipe under the surface of Ohio avenue between its two plants, were the features of the regular meeting of New Boston council Monday evening.

A schedule of bills amounting to $30.25 was allowed. After considerable discussion a resolution was passed ordering the transfer of certain moneys for the purpose of reimbursing funds.

$153.22 was transferred to the general fund, one-half of it from the Water Works fund and the other half from the Sewer Fund.

$445 was transferred to the Service Fund from the Water Works fund.

$310 was transferred to the Sewer fund from the Sewer funds.

$2784.33 was transferred from the Sewer fund to the Harrisonville avenue fund.

The introduction of an ordinance defining duties of the deputy marshal was the cause of Mayor Davis and Member Dixon clashing. The ordinance read: "That it shall be the duty of the Deputy Marshal in addition to the duties prescribed for him by law to light all street lights within the village at or about 6 o'clock each evening and to extinguish such street lights between the hours of 4 and 6 the following morning."

Mayor Davis said, "I positively refuse to instruct the deputy to enforce those duties."

Dixon came back with a statement that "there is a law to make the mayor perform his duties." Dixon further said that Mayor Davis had no right to dictate to council.

The mayor vacated his chair refusing to put the motion for the passing of the ordinance. President Pro Tem Frank Wells then took the chair and put the motion. With Taylor and Harris voting may the ordinance could not be passed and had to be laid aside for another reading.

Ordinance No. 98 was referred to and it was found that in the agreement the city was to put Gallia pipe in the shape it was laid before the water mains were laid and that it was not up to Contractor John A. Grimes as Mayor Frick had stated in a letter to Charles Dixon.

The engineer and street committee were instructed to meet with the Peaches Realty company in regard to the cut that is to be made on Gallia pike through the Peaches addition.

Clerk Thomas O'Neal was instructed to notify the Portsmouth Street Railway and Light company that the franchise with the village called for tracks on Rhodes avenue before December 31, 1914.

Engineer Hartman was instructed to bring in estimates on the paving of Harrisonville avenue, Gallia pike, Park avenue, Rhodes avenue, Grace street, Vine street and Ohio avenue. The street committee was instructed to construct a cinder sidewalk on one side of the hill made on Rhodes avenue near Center street.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Resolutions of respect in memory of the late Philip Emmert, of New Boston, were adopted at the regular meeting of the Order of Owls Monday evening, and the payment of the death benefit to the widow approved. Mr. Emmert was a member of the Portsmouth Nest, by the members of which his death was deeply mourned.

Arrangements for the big banquet which the lodge will give in the very near future are being held up, pending the receipt of word from the Home Nest, as to when one of the grand officials can be here for an address. The committee in charge of the Fastnacht dance in February reported satisfactory progress.

Magnolia Initiates

At the meeting of Magnolia Lodge, Knights of Pythias, held Monday night, Clarence Johnson, manager of the Liberty Clothing company, was given the Esquire degree. At a meeting to be held next Monday night the Knight rank will be conferred upon several candidates and the ritual work will be followed by a smoke.

BITTEN BY A DOG

Horace Rockwell, aged 42, and who resides at Deplum's Station, was bitten on the arm by a dog Monday evening, which is said to be owned by George Jenkins. Dr. A. G. Stevens was called and cauterized Mr. Rockwell's wound, which is quite serious as the dog sank its teeth deeply into the muscles near the elbow.

As Mr. Rockwell put down a bucket of paint near the dog it sprang upon him without warning.

SEALED TOPS ON CROSSINGS

One feature of the underground crossings to be built by the C. & O. Northern Railroad in this county is that each crossing will have a sealed top, thus preventing any parasites falling through the tracks. The company officials claim that the crossings have been planned to insure the greatest amount of safety possible, and that strict adherence to the plans will be followed in their construction.

FIGHTING QUALITIES OF MOROCCANS ARE SHOWN IN FIERCE ENGAGEMENT

Soissons, (via Paris), Jan. 19—

The rear guard of the Moroccan rifle regiments who covered the retreat of the French center across the river on the 14th, acquitted themselves with distinction. They had been posted in the village of Crouy.

At 4 o'clock in the afternoon the Germans, in Surried ranks, debouched in the road and advanced toward the village. The riflemen carefully concealed their quick firers and posted themselves on each side of the road. Not a sound was made and nothing was allowed to show above the blackened ruins. The Germans thought the road was clear and ran to the village to get shelter from the French heavy artillery.

When they were within 500 yards of the place the riflemen opened fire suddenly. The Germans were surprised. There was no room to deploy and they fell in heaps. Those who could retreated to the brook of Braye.

Bayonets Twisted In Fierce Charge

Reinforced, they reformed their ranks and attempted to turn the French position from the east side of the village. Three companies of riflemen were detached and charged. The shock was awful. Bayonets were twisted out of shape and then the dusky soldiers used the butts of their rifles. For a second time the Germans gave way.

The Moroccans were told to hold the place till 5 p. m. It was then 6 o'clock but they still refused to retire. They did so only after a staff officer was sent to them twice with an order for retreat.

During the night German artillery roared in a bombardment of Soissons but at dawn of the 15th the artillery slackened and gave place to infantry fire.

At 7 o'clock a battalion of the line, occupying the farms of St. Paul, were ordered to protect the outer trenches which were threatened by the German attack. They charged and broke the German ranks, driving them as far as Crouy railway station and taking 100 prisoners. Hardly, however, had they returned with the prisoners when they were assailed by fresh German forces and for two hours St. Paul was subjected to a furious assault over plowed fields, through orchards and in gardens, court yards and barns.

The tide of battle ebbed and flowed in the angle of a stable wall. Here the Germans died were so numerous that some stood upright, looking room to fall.

The good practice of the three inch guns guided by aeroplanes, prevented the German reinforcements from debouching from the western slope of the Vregny plateau and the Germans, exhausted and discouraged at their lack of success returned to Crouy.

The French retain the mastery of the suburbs of Soissons on the right bank of the river and of the bridge ahead. Their front is stronger than ever.

M'GRAW'S PREDICAMENT

The Giant leader is up against a tangle. Stallings has a club almost sure to play fine base ball for he has a machine that still has ability and ambition, the two main ingredients of success in any branch of human endeavor.

And neither McGraw nor any one else can tell just what a number of esteemed Giants may be upon the verge of accomplishing this season. Among those last season who slipped far back of normal form were Meyers, Marquard, Doyle, Merkle, Rescher and even Mutt after mid-season. None of these has passed beyond his playing prime except possibly Mutt, who isn't through yet.

This slump may have meant a decay in ability, or it may have been merely an off year for most of those who participated in the slidding. All of which is something that only time can show as the coming campaign moves along.

FRUIT GROWER CONSIDERS SCIOTO COUNTY FAVORABLE

William Graf, a former Scioto county, now a prominent and well-to-do fruit rancher of Durango, Colorado, is here with his wife visiting his nephew, Lew W. Ditty, a well-known cafe owner.

Mr. Graf also expects to visit home folks at Haverhill and relatives in Columbus, Pittsburg and other places before returning West.

It is his first visit here in eight years. He is the county fruit inspector of La Platte county, Colorado, and known as one of the most successful fruit growers of that section. He regards it as strange that people of Scioto county do not awaken to the possibilities of fruit growing, declaring that the advantages offered here are unequalled anywhere.
